

Five Area Deaths During Holiday

By WALTER S. CLARK

Traffic fatalities over the Labor Day weekend on highways in New York State were the lowest in recent years, according to authorities who investigated a violent one-car accident that occurred Monday on Route 32 in this township and took the lives of two men.

Three other highway fatalities were reported in the area.

At least 19 persons were killed in motor vehicle accidents on State highways during the 78-hour weekend which began 6 p. m. on Friday and ended at midnight Monday.

Six persons died in other accidents for a total death toll of 25. The record for a Labor Day period is 44 highway deaths set in 1967.

The Labor Day holiday weekend may have had fewer traffic deaths in the nation than estimated by the National Safety Council, which had estimated they would die in traffic accidents during the long holiday.

A United Press International count early today showed at least 575 persons killed in traffic mishaps.

Meanwhile, area authorities reported several persons were injured and hospitalized in other vehicle accidents.

State Police noted that the counties of Greene, Columbia and Orange passed the weekend without a fatal traffic death.

The Ulster County automobile fatality occurred at 2:30 a. m. Monday on Route 32 in the Town of Gardiner, not far from the Town of New Paltz line.

State Police Sergeant S. M. Kowalik of the Highland station said the dead men were Mario Zayos, 35, of 1128 Finley Avenue, the Bronx, and 45-year-old Ramon Orna, of 535 St. Ann's Avenue, also of the Bronx.

They were passengers in a taxicab driven by 28-year-old Marcos Claudio of 400 East 105th Street, New York City.

State Police said Claudio was southbound on the highway when the taxicab careened out of control on a curve and crashed into a large tree with such terrific force that the vehicle reportedly "broke in half."

Claudio suffered multiple internal and external injuries, authorities said. A third passenger in the vehicle, Julio Del Gado, 23, of 108 College Avenue, the Bronx, sustained severe head injuries. The men who survived the crash were taken to Vassar Hospital by Fatum's New Paltz Ambulance Service.

Claudio was listed in critical condition. DelGado was reported in fair condition.

Ulster County Coroner Arthur C. Chipp of Kerhonkson investigated the fatality with Troopers B. S. O'Connor, P. A. Koenig and R. M. Gardner.

The investigation will continue, authorities said.

Victims of other area deaths included 17-year-old Patricia DeYoung of Montgomery, who was killed Saturday in a sports car crash near her home, and Anita Becker, 61, of Queens, who was fatally injured Monday when the car in which she was riding crashed into a stone wall off Taconic Parkway in Putnam Valley.

The Mid-Hudson area's first holiday highway fatality was recorded Saturday morning by Orange County authorities.

Killed in the mishap was 20-year-old Roger K. Bradford of 10 New Street, Middletown. Police said the youth was operating his motorcycle up a slight incline on Canal Street in Middletown when he lost control of the machine, which skidded on its side ejecting the rider who struck his head on the curb.

Bradford was pronounced dead on arrival at Horton Memorial Hospital in Middletown.

In other accidents investigated by area authorities three persons were injured when the vehicles in which they were riding collided on Route 9W about one half mile south of the Mid-Hudson Bridge approach at Highland at 2:45 p. m. Sunday.

State Police Sergeant S. M. Kowalik said the cars involved were operated by Mary Rodelli, 21, of Milton Turnpike, Milton, and 45-year-old Augustine Merola of 145 Washington Street, Poughkeepsie. Trooper B. D. Mitchell reported that the woman was northbound on a curve when her vehicle reportedly hit a car owned by Helen Schmidt of Brooklyn which was parked partly on the shoulder and part on the highway.

The Rodelli car, troopers said, bounced off the parked vehicle and was in collision with the Merola automobile.

The Milton woman sustained multiple lacerations. Merola received a whiplash, and a passenger in his car, Florence Merola, 40, suffered a fractured hip and lacerations. The injured were taken to St.

Hijacker for 180-British Mull Swap

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The British Cabinet met in emergency session today to consider whether to free a beautiful 24-year-old Palestinian hijacker in exchange for the lives of 180 passengers aboard two hijacked planes.

The Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine, an Arab guerrilla organization, demanded Monday that Miss Leila Khaled and six other commandos imprisoned in Switzerland and West Germany be released by 11 p. m. EDT Wednesday. Otherwise, the ultimatum said, the Swissair DC8 and the Trans World Airlines Boeing 707 being held by hijackers at a small airfield in Jordan will be blown up with the passengers still aboard.

Four Western governments delegated the International Red Cross today to negotiate with the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine for the release of the 180 passengers still held captive from two of four planes involved in Sunday's hijacking plots.

Reporting the agreement, British officials said Israel opted not to join the United States, Switzerland, West Germany and Britain in working through the Red Cross. Citizens from all five nations were reported aboard the two planes in Jordan.

"The front has put boxes of explosives inside the two planes in order to blow them up in case there is no reply to its warning," a guerrilla spokesman said in the Jordanian capital of Amman.

Switzerland and West Germany agreed to the demand. The British government at first said no, but Prime Minister Edward Heath called his Cabinet together to reconsider after the Palestinians issued their ultimatum.

The third plane hijacked in the Middle East Sunday, a Pan American World Airways Boeing 747, was blown up eight minutes after landing at Cairo but its passengers escaped through emergency chutes. A substitute Boeing 707 returned to New York Monday night with 137 of the jumbo jet's 188 passengers and crewmen aboard.

A Pan Am spokesman said the Swissair DC8 and the Trans World Airlines Boeing 707 being held by hijackers at a small airfield in Jordan will be blown up with the passengers still aboard.

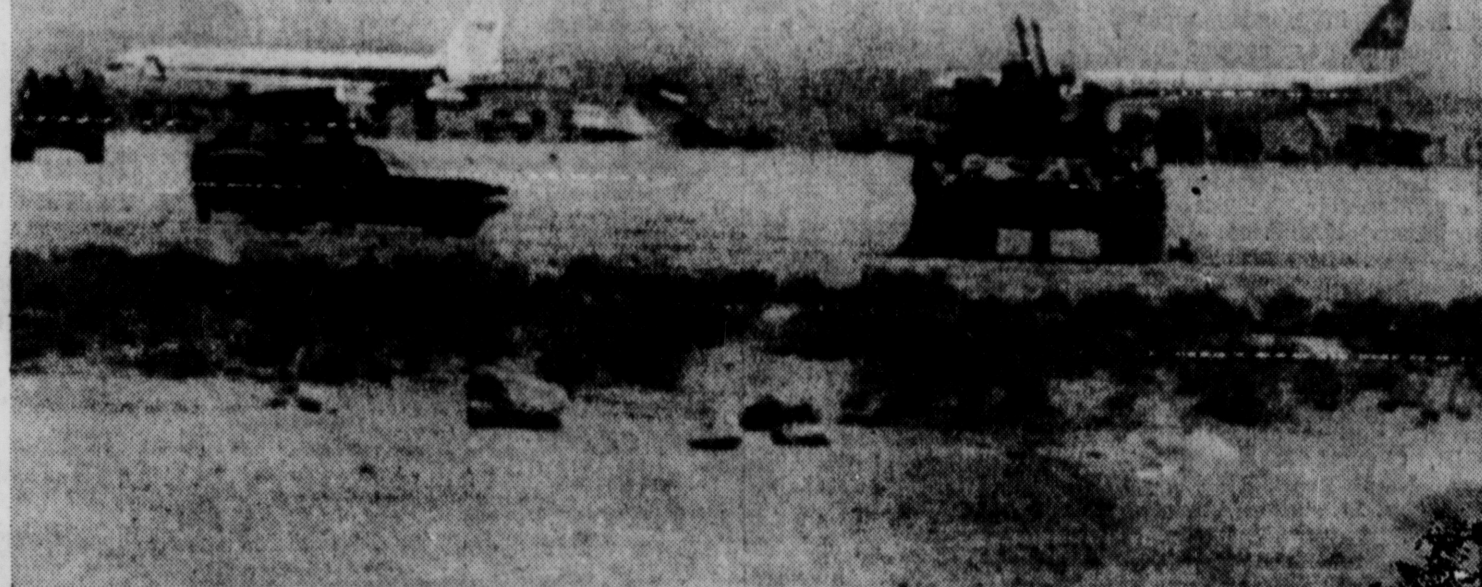

All three planes were hijacked en route to New York.

Miss Khaled was seized by Israeli security guards Sunday during a fourth hijack attempt. Her male companion was fatally shot when they tried to take over an Israeli El Al Airlines DC8 on a flight from Amsterdam to New York. She was jailed by Scotland Yard when the plane landed at London's Heathrow Airport.

The other guerrillas whose release has been demanded are also in jail on charges involving attacks on airlines. Three of the prisoners are awaiting trial in Munich and the other three have been sentenced in Zurich to 12-year prison terms.

In Geneva, the International Red Cross said it had dispatched a special mission to Amman to try to negotiate the fate of the hijackers' hostages.

Red Cross mediators earlier convinced the Palestinians to release 120 hostages, mostly

The Waylaid Passengers—At Least 30 Upstaters

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A trio of schoolteachers from an Albany suburb and a group of German-Americans visiting relatives in Germany were among the upstate New Yorkers who unexpectedly found themselves in Jordan Sunday, as their Swissair DC8 was hijacked by Arab guerrillas while en route from Zurich to New York.

The names of all of the persons on the hijacked plane were not immediately available, but it appeared that at least thirty of the 155 aboard the aircraft were from upstate New York.

A relative of Mrs. Werner Luedecke of Oneida, one of the passengers, said he was told by a Swissair official that the names of passengers were not being announced publicly for their own safety.

Swissair's public relations manager for North America, John Luke, said in New York City that he had instructions not to disclose the names of passengers, some of whom have been released by the guerrillas, while others apparently remain with the jetliner at Zerga, northeast of Amman, Jordan.

Members of Congress and State Department officials, it appeared, were notifying the families of the waylaid passengers.

Meanwhile 28th Congressional District Congressman Hamilton Fish's Washington office is in continuing contact with the State Department in an effort to determine if any of his constituents were aboard the plane.

Fish himself just returned this weekend from a fact-finding tour of the Middle East. Alan Coffey, aide to Fish, told

The Freeman that a special task force has been set up by the State Department to help Swissair notify families of the passengers involved.

The family of Mrs. Victoria Cashman, a Menands schoolteacher, was told by Rep. Daniel E. Button Monday afternoon that Mrs. Cashman and a companion, Miss Marilla Reynolds, also of Menands, were awaiting evacuation from Amman after being released by the guerrillas with other women and children.

Charles Flint, another Men-ands schoolteacher traveling with Mrs. Cashman and Miss Reynolds, was thought to have been detained at Zerga.

According to a State Department official in Washington, Mrs. Luedecke, Miss Mary Lou Altenburg, of Syracuse, and Mr. Lieselotte Roth of the Syracuse suburb of Liverpool, were also among those permitted to proceed to Amman from the desert airstrip where the DC8 and a Trans World Airlines Boeing 707, hijacked the same day, remained under guerrilla guard.

ATTEMPT FOILED—Covered with a raincoat, Leila Khaled, a 23-year-old Palestinian terrorist, is accompanied by police as she leaves the West Drayton Police Station in London for a destination that was not disclosed. The girl, who tried to hijack an El Al jetliner with a companion, was seized by British police after being subdued by passengers and security men on the Israeli airplane. (UPI CABLEPHOTO)

A Borscht Circuit Tour for Ottinger

By JON POWERS

Rep. Richard Ottinger, shifting his campaign for Charles E. Goodell's U.S. Senate seat into high gear, visited 19 southern Catskill resort hotels over the Labor Day weekend and, after it was all over, had press aides wondering if it was worth the trouble.

"These were all Dick's votes anyway," The Freeman was told.

That comment stemmed primarily from what Ottinger and his aides termed an "enthusiastic reception" they received at every site visited this weekend. The hectic holiday included receptions, dinner, luncheons and press conferences but most of the time was reserved for just plain stumping — meeting people, shaking hands and showing off that boyish Ottinger charm.

Later, at the Fallsview Hotel in Ellenville, the Democratic congressman from Westchester County said he must have met "hundreds of thousands of people."

At Fallsview, Ottinger and his wife, Betty, were greeted by several hundred persons, including hotel guests and Democrats from throughout Ulster County. Included in that latter contingent were candidates for District Attorney Alex Nirenberg, Ellenville Village Trustee Walter Grey and Town of Wawarsing Councilman Frank Sahler.

There was little "heavy" political talk as Ottinger weaved his way through the crowded reception room at Fallsview. Most of the people were content to shake hands, say "hi" and make their way back to the buffet table. When the congressman was confronted with a question concerning his "position" on a particular issue, he stopped and the two had it out, eye-to-eye, right on the spot.

After one such exchange, a young man grinned and said, "Now I'll wear your button."

Ottinger did take time out to make a brief speech that reiterated his stand on Southeast Asia, police protection, narcotics rehabilitation and the war in the Mideast. His comments on the Arab-Israeli strife were warmly received by the predominantly Jewish audiences vacationing at the resort hotel.

Just back from a tour of Tel Aviv, Ottinger told of the "tremendous building" program and the booming economy of Israel. He said that the United States, must, at all costs, continue to guarantee the military strength of the eastern Mediterranean country.

On Vietnam, the Democratic candidate reemphasized his feelings that the "senseless slaughter" of "American boys" must stop. He additionally cited the "economic drain" that the war is placing on this country and added that there are other "domestic priorities" that must be attended to.

On the narcotics theme, Ottinger took a "get tough" stand. He said that if a man pushes heroin on a youth, it's the same as if he shot him and "he should be treated the same."

On the other hand, Ottinger said that attempts should be made to "rehabilitate" addicts with a complete program of treatment and education. "They should not be treated like criminals," he concluded.

Ottinger also had some thoughts on Goodell, his Republican opponent for the Senate seat. When asked by The Freeman if he thought he could outdo the Jamestown Senator in garnering support of the young, Ottinger said he felt he always had that support. He said the youth of New York State were well aware of Goodell's voting record, which he said was "more conservative than Goldwater's."

Ottinger also used this argument to dispel queries from the press that he and Goodell offered the voters little choice in the November election. Mrs. Ottinger came to the defense of her husband on this issue when she cited a recent survey that indicated that Goodell

KINGSTON

Sen. Charles E. Goodell, Republican candidate for election to the U. S. Senate, stopped off in Kingston, Stone Ridge and Red Hook today during a campaign swing from Syracuse to New York.

Accompanied by Republican City Chairman Melvin Mones, GOP County Vice Chairman Mrs. Sally Brinnier and John Naccarato of his Kingston office, Goodell held a press conference at the Gov. Clinton Hotel, was a guest at a Lions Club luncheon at the hotel and visited the Ulster County Community College campus in Stone Ridge.

Goodell, Jamestown lawyer, who was appointed to his post by Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, concluded his tour of the area visiting the Big Sea Apple Farm in Red Hook owned by Wallay Schreiber on Rte. 199. The senator was on hand to witness the first day of apple shipping in that section of Dutchess County.

During the press conference, Goodell, an advocate of aid to Israel and a Vietnam pullout fielded questions on those subjects as well as others concerning his chances for victory in the three-way race between himself, Democrat Richard Ottinger and the Conservatively endorsed Republican James L. Buckley, all of whom seek to represent New York State in the U. S. Senate.

Prior to his arrival in Kingston where he was met at the Kingston - Rhinecliff bridge by Mones and Naccarato, Goodell had breakfast in Hudson with the Columbia County Executive Committee and its chairman, John Sharpe. He also toured that city's urban renewal section.

Goodell also had planned to tour the city of Kingston but a late arrival here led to a shortening of his schedule.

Napanoch Retirement Report Persists

Petition Seeks Chaplain's Removal

NAPANOCH could not wait to get more what Local 1041 described as "insurrection of inmates last month following the death of a 21-year-old inmate, who died of a heart seizure while playing basketball."

At that time Father O'Brien advised newsmen that other inmates complained about the "poor" medical service provided at the institution.

Lewis Hankins was dead on arrival at the prison hospital, officials said and an autopsy revealed that he had a congenital heart condition.

The removal of the Rev. William M. O'Brien, Catholic chaplain of the Eastern Correctional Institution at Napanoch is being sought in a petition reportedly signed by 272 employees at the prison and directed to Gov. Rockefeller and Commissioner of Corrections Paul D. McGinnis.

A copy of the petition was also forwarded to the Catholic Archdiocese of New York which recommends chaplain appointments.

In the petition, prison employees charged the 37-year-old priest with violation of prison regulations by permitting news leaks and by broadcasting "misinformation."

There are about 340 employed at the prison facility. However, many were not working during the petition drive according to Robert Comeau, president of the Civil Service Employees Association (CSEA) Unit at the institution. Comeau said that 98 per cent of those on duty during the first day of the drive signed. Only six refused he noted.

Comeau said the time element was important and they Conservative James L. Buckley "officially" opened his U.S. Senate campaign Labor Day by shaking hands at the State Fair in Syracuse preparatory to a four-day upstate New York tour.

Buckley scheduled stops in Rochester, Buffalo and Jamestown—the home town of Sen. Charles E. Goodell, R-N.Y.—before leaving for New York City Thursday night.

Buckley told members of the Syracuse Press Club that he did not believe a poll that Goodell says shows Democratic Rep. Richard L. Ottinger leading in the race for the Senate, with Goodell second and Buckley third.

Goodell is in third place, Buckley said, and Ottinger, although leading, "is slipping."

Asked if he thought he had a chance of winning, Buckley replied: "Yes, I'm going to win. That is a foolish question."

Goodell and Ottinger "represent a single point of view," Buckley said, "policies we have lived with for 30 years, which didn't work."

Despite the fact that Goodell is a Republican as is President Nixon, Buckley said the "White House has no enthusiasm for Goodell."

"The White House would like to have someone in the Senate who thinks as I do," Buckley said.

The Conservative candidate supports Nixon's Southeast Asia war policy and has gained the support of some upstate Republicans who are critical of Goodell's anti-war leadership.

Americans in Hanoi

SAIGON (UPI)—Radio Hanoi said today a group of antiwar Americans including Black Panther leader Eldridge Cleaver met recently with North Vietnamese Prime Minister Pham Van Dong in Hanoi.

The English language broadcast beamed to American soldiers in Vietnam and monitored in Saigon, said Dong "nailed the heroic struggle of the American people against the war, and the struggle of black people for freedom."

A tape recording allegedly made at the meeting was played as part of the broadcast and quoted Cleaver as saying President Nixon was sending blacks to Vietnam to keep them from taking part in the "fight for liberation" in the United States.

In another development at the institution, there have been reports that Prison Superintendent Maurice M. Blow is considering retirement. He is reportedly now on sick leave. Blow did not indicate when he plans to return, according to Robert J. Henderson, acting superintendent. Henderson said Blow applied for a two-week vacation and may be leaving the country. Blow is under medical care now, Henderson indicated.

In regard to reports about Blow's retirement, Henderson said Blow is eligible for retirement now.

John R. Kane, deputy state corrections commissioner also said Blow is on sick leave and is following his doctor's recommendation to take a rest. Kane revealed that Blow has a history of a heart ailment. Kane also could not say whether Blow will retire or not.

Commissioner McGinnis last week forwarded a letter of commendation to Blow for his conduct of the prison incident which was resolved with little trouble. The letter noted that Blow's leadership assured a peaceful settlement.

It had been reported that about 650 of the 900 inmates at the institution congregated in the prison yard for about a day after the death of the heart victim. However they returned to their cells without violence when the prison guards marched into the yard in force.

NEWBURGH, N.Y. (UPI) — Two metropolitan New York young men were given 25-day sentences apiece in Orange County jail Monday on charges of desecrating the American flag.

John Kastanis, 20, of College Point and Christopher Nomikas, 18, of Astoria, Queens, were stopped on the Thruway near the Newburgh interchange, state police said. The two had an American flag wrapped around their car's rear view mirror and were apparently using it as a rag, troopers said.

Golda Meir on Suez-- Staying Until Peace

By United Press International
Premier Golda Meir vowed Monday night Israel never will withdraw from the Suez Canal front until there is peace in the Middle East, regardless of what Egypt does.

In the United Nations, Israeli Ambassador Yosef Tekoa h Monday told U.N. Middle East Envoy Gunnar V. Jarring Israel temporarily was pulling out of the peace talks because of alleged cease-fire violations by Egypt.

The Israelis contend Egypt has moved Soviet-built anti-aircraft missiles closer to the canal in the 31-mile standstill zone in violation of terms of the 90-day truce which began Aug. 7.

Mrs. Meir, in an interview with the British Broadcasting Corp. (BBC) taped in Tel Aviv, said it did not matter what happened in Egypt.

"Israel is not going to be driven away from any point where it is until there's peace, so no matter what happens on the other side of the canal, we're not going to run away from the canal," she said.

She denied the Middle East might explode into a war of the major powers.

"If the free world makes a stand, and if Russia will know that the free world is prepared to defend its freedom and independence, there won't be a war."

In Amman, shooting erupted between Jordanian troops and Palestinian guerrillas for the eighth consecutive day today with reports of mortar fire near the luxurious Intercontinental Hotel. The clashes broke out after King Hussein announced Jordanian acceptance of the Mideast cease-fire and resumption of the peace talks.

The Arab guerrillas have never accepted the truce and said they were pledged to sabotage all efforts to reach a political settlement of the struggle.

Teachers' Strikes Keep Schools Closed

By United Press International
Teachers' strikes kept school from opening today in several Illinois communities and in Nashua, N.H. Philadelphia's 350,000 students were not expected to go to school Thursday, the first day of scheduled classes.

Tentative contracts were being voted on today in two Massachusetts communities, Worcester and Melrose. Teachers in Boston said they would return to classrooms today and decide whether to show up for the first day of classes Thursday.

In Illinois, teachers strikes went into their second week at East St. Louis, Eldorado and Galatia as most of the state's students returned from the Labor Day holiday. Teachers in Rockford, Collinsville and Bloomington were expected back today after spending last week on strike.

Troopers Probe Rash of Accidents

ELLENVILLE
State Police investigated a rash of motor vehicle accidents in the area during the Labor Day holiday weekend. Troopers said 40 persons from the Philadelphia area were slightly injured at 3 p.m., Saturday when a bus overturned.

Sergeant J. A. Fitzgerald reported the bus operated by Curtis Small of Philadelphia, Pa., was southbound on Samsonville Road when the driver lost control and the vehicle overturned. The injured were taken to Ellenville Community Hospital.

Four members of a Mt. Vernon family were injured at 11 p.m. Sunday when their car went out of control and overturned on Krumville Road in the Town of Olive. Troopers said the car was operated by Donald Budd, 36, of the Westchester County city. Budd, his wife, Mary, and their two children, Donna, 10, and Thomas, 9, were all taken to the local hospital for treatment. Budd was cited for driving at a speed too fast for conditions.

Another accident investigated by Trooper P. R. Barber involved a car operated by Thomas Golebinski, 21, of New York City, who was northbound on Beaverdam Road, Town of Wawarsing, when the driver lost control and the car overturned after hitting a stone wall. Golebinski and two passengers, Janice Polt, 17, and Geraldine Polt, 19, both of New York City, were taken to the Ellenville Hospital for treatment.

Golebinski was cited for unlicensed operation.

Troopers also investigated a mishap that occurred Monday on Route 209 in the Town of Rochester north of Route 44-55. A. R. Adamo, 64, of Providence, R. I., was driving his vehicle along the highway when a car driven by Yolanda Goldstein, 30, of New York City, reportedly crossed into the opposite lane and the cars collided head-on.

The woman was taken to Ellenville hospital suffering rib injuries, broken teeth and a possible broken leg in addition to multiple lacerations. She was cited by Trooper J. E. Kelly for failure to keep to the right.

Conservative Nod Looms for Larkin

KINGSTON
John L. Larkin, who is virtually assured of the Republican nomination for a Supreme Court judgeship, is also expected to receive the Conservative Party nomination, according to Harry S. Hoffman Jr., Ulster County Conservative Party chairman.

The nomination is expected to come at the Conservative Party Convention to be held in Kingston, Saturday, Sept. 12, one day following the Republican Third Judicial District Convention in Albany.

Larkin's endorsement by the Conservatives completes that party's bi-partisan slate which includes all Republican candidates running on the Nov. 3 ballot in Ulster County with the exception of Sen. Charles E. Goodell and Congressman Hamilton Fish Jr. The Ulster County Conservative Party has nominated Hoffman for the congressional post and supports Conservative candidate James L. Buckley for the U.S. Senate.

In making announcement of Larkin's intended nomination, Hoffman said "I urge the support of our slate on all conservatively inclined voters."

Seize Documents

CAIRO (UPI)—Egyptian authorities have seized secret documents of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) in the wreckage of the Pan American World Airways 747 jet blown up by Palestinian guerrillas at Cairo Airport early Monday, the semiofficial Cairo newspaper Al-Ahram said today.

The newspaper said the documents contained NATO's next year's budget and this year's problems.

The Cairo public prosecutor decided to keep the documents among the papers seized in the wreckage of the plane and refused permission to any Pan American official to reach the wrecked aircraft, Al-Ahram said.

Larkin's candidacy first came to the fore when the seven Republican county chairmen of the Third Judicial District voted 43-11 on Aug. 18 for Ulster County's choice for the coveted $36,600 a year post.

It is anticipated that Rensselaer County which held out with 11 votes in hopes of fielding its own candidate, may swing over to Larkin making his nomination unanimous at the Albany convention.

Hoffman, referring to Ulster County's having only one Supreme Justice at this time, said that, "It seriously needs another. The additional justice for the county has been sought over a period of years and now, with bipartisan backing, it appears to have come within reach."

Larkin is a partner in the law firm of Larkin and Vogt with offices at 42 Main Street, Kingston. He is a former assistant district attorney for Ulster County and past president of the Ulster County Bar Association.

'Little Talk' With DA

An Invitation to Sinatra

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI)—The district attorney has issued an invitation to Frank Sinatra to have "a little talk" about the singer's possible underworld connections.

The invitation came Monday in the wake of Sinatra's latest donnybrook with a Las Vegas casino executive. Sinatra flew to Palm Springs, Calif. Sunday and canceled further appearances at Caesars Palace Hotel after arguing with Executive Vice President Sanford Waterman over gambling credit in a high stakes baccarat game. In the ensuing squabble, Sinatra began throwing gambling chips and a scuffle erupted between him and Waterman. Waterman allegedly pulled a gun and was later booked on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon.

"One remark he supposedly made to Waterman as he was going out the door was, 'the mob will take care of you,'" said District Attorney George Franklin.

"I'm fed up with these ing waiters, waitresses, starting accusations. Nobody in our fires and throwing pies. He gets away with too much. He's organization is running for re-election."

Sheriff Ralph Lamb served notice Sinatra would have to toe the line if the singer returns to work in Las Vegas. One witness said the argument began after Sinatra Lamb said, "and if Sinatra started playing baccarat for comes back to town...he's $8,000 a hand and asked coming downtown to get a work Waterman, 66, to up the limit card and if he gives me any trouble he's going to jail. because Sinatra wanted to play on credit."

U.S. Inflation—World's Problem

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The report, said U.S. inflation had spread economic trouble to most non-Communist countries. It placed America's inflation problems at the top of the world economic priority list.

The IMF works to stabilize the value of money. It often makes loans to countries having trouble protecting the soundness of their currency.

The IMF was critical of the Nixon administration's efforts to check inflation.

"At this juncture, the domestic stabilization plan developed by the (U.S.) authorities early in 1969 is clearly behind schedule in slowing the pace of price and cost increases and, at the same time, it has had a more severe impact on the real economy than was hoped for," the report said.

The IMF noted that U.S. prices increased at an annual rate of 5.5 per cent during the report said. "At stake are the checking of the inflationary trend on a worldwide basis, the long-run stability and efficiency of the U.S. economy, the much-needed strengthening of the U.S. balance of payments and the sound functioning of the first half of this year, the worst inflation since the Korean War, while unemployment reached a five-year high of 5 per cent."

International Monetary System. The report in advance of the fund's annual meeting, scheduled to begin Sept. 21 in Pierre-Paul Schweitzer issued Copenhagen.

Tough, Uphill Fight

Electoral Reform Debate Underway

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate starts debate today on a Constitutional amendment, approved by the House a year ago, to provide for the election of the President by direct, popular vote.

It is the first of many controversial issues confronting senators on their return from a five-day Labor Day recess. Its chances of winning the necessary two-thirds majority are in doubt.

Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., chief Senate sponsor of the proposed amendment, contends 55 to 60 senators now support the proposals. He predicts the measure will pick up enough additional votes to pass.

But he told newsmen before the debate got underway that it is going to be a tough, uphill fight and made plain that he would welcome White House efforts to line up senators behind the amendment.

President Nixon endorsed the direct election proposal after its approval by the House by a vote of 339-70.

He previously had recommended overhauling the present electoral college system of choosing the president, expressing doubt that discarding it altogether would be approved by least in time for the 1972 election.

Bayh said "the odds are now rather heavily stacked against the plan being put into effect for the next presidential election."

Under the Senate version, ratification by three-fourths of the states would have to be completed by April 15 of next year for the direct election plan to apply in 1972. The House set a deadline of Jan. 20 when it approved the amendment a year ago.

Bayh said 46 of the 50 state legislatures will meet next year and that an all-out effort to obtain ratification promptly will be launched if the amendment clears Congress.

Opponents have indicated that, if necessary, they may mount a Senate filibuster against the direct election plan, but they hope to persuade colleagues to ditch it in favor of other proposals to remedy what they concede are defects in the electoral college system.

They contend the proposed amendment would destroy the two-party system, undermine

Carswell and Faubus Facing Challenges

By United Press International

Political novice G. Harold Carswell of Florida and old pro Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas faced stiff challenges today as eight states held primary elections.

Carswell, the former appeals court judge whose nomination to the Supreme Court was rejected by the Senate, has been involved in a bitter campaign for the Republican nomination to the Senate against eight-term Rep. William C. Cramer.

Faubus, former six-term governor of Arkansas, sought the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in a runoff against attorney Dale Bumpers. Faubus was the front-runner in the eight-man primary, but failed to gain a clear majority.

Also holding primaries today were Arizona, Colorado, New Hampshire, Utah, Wisconsin and Vermont. Georgia holds a primary Wednesday.

In Florida, Cramer leaned heavily on his authorship of an antibusing amendment to the 1964 Civil Rights Act while Carswell blasted the "ultra-liberals" in the Senate. They were running for the seat vacated by the retirement of Sen. Spessard L. Holland, a Democrat.

Running for the Democratic senatorial nomination are former Gov. Farris Bryant, speaker Fred Schultz of the Florida House, State Sen. Lawton Chiles and Alcee Hastings. The issue, again, is forced busing, and all are against it except Hastings, a Negro.

In the Florida gubernatorial primary, Gov. Claude Kirk faced drugstore chain operator Jack Eckerd. The Democratic nomination was sought by State Attorney General Earl Faircloth, Dade County (Miami) Mayor Chuck Hall and two state senators.

Chairman of the Board—

Who else but Bill Buddenhagen — who for over half a century has been one of the leading bankers in Ulster County.

Starting as a clerk, Bill reached the top of his profession by being elected president of Rondout Savings in 1958, a position, which along with Chairman, he held until just recently.

Bill's leadership over these many years has contributed significantly to the progress of our bank — progress which was highlighted by our recent move to our new location at 300 Broadway.

So — as long as we have people of Bill Buddenhagen's caliber, there is little doubt that Rondout Savings will continue being the fastest growing savings bank in Ulster County.

A second speaker at the meeting will be John E. Ryan, district manager of the National Forest Products Association, a federated association of 20 regional lumber manufacturers associations. Ryan will talk on the new sizes of lumber currently being used in the building industry.

Tonight's dinner meeting is being sponsored by the Chester Lumber, Inc. of Chester. ## Power Companies, Housewife Have Same Type of Problem

NEW YORK (AP) — Giant power companies are having the same trouble as the average housewife in trying to get electrical equipment repaired.

The housewife may not be able to have crisp toast because she can't get the toaster fixed.

But the power company not being able to get the generator fixed means that major cities and thousands of people may do without the power they need.

Residents of New York City and New England, for example, have been through more than half-dozen voltage reductions or brownouts this summer because utilities serving those areas have not been able to meet power demands. The main reason: their turbine-generators have been out of service.

Consolidated Edison, which serves the more than nine million residents of the New York area, is operating without 14 percent of its 8.7 million kilowatt capacity.

The Northeast Power Exchange, an interconnection of 113 New England electric companies, has had a series of minor breakdowns and delays in returning turbine-generators to service following shutdowns for scheduled maintenance.

The problems involved in repairing turbine-generators, according to their manufacturers, is that despite their size—about 2,000 tons and half the size of a football field—they are nevertheless very delicate, finely-tuned machines.

"Each turbine-generator is custom built and it takes from three to four years to build one," an official of Westinghouse Electric explained. Since the units are built to specification, there are no off-the-shelf spare parts, and replacement parts have to be hand made, he added.

As an example of the complexity of a turbine-generator, officials at Consolidated Edison say they still haven't figured out what caused its Ravenswood III unit to short-circuit. Workmen have been probing its innards for more than a month.

Meanwhile, Westinghouse has been commissioned to fabricate the three inch-thick copper coils burned out by the short circuit. Company officials say they expect to deliver them by October. Con Ed estimates that Ravenswood III—also known as Big Allis, after Allis Chalmers, its manufacturer—may be back in service by May 1971.

Since completing Big Allis in 1965, Allis-Chalmers has stopped making turbine-generators. Recently, however, it announced that plans to re-enter the field in partnership with a West German firm.

Besides Westinghouse, the only other manufacturer of turbine-generators is General Electric.

Largest Farm Price Drop

The housewife soon may look forward hopefully to getting more for her family in the market place. The Agricultural Department reports that declining prices for hogs, cattle, eggs and potatoes in the month ending August 15 sent national farm prices down three per cent. It was the largest single month-to-month decline in average farm prices since a five per cent slide 22 years ago. That was in the month ending October 15, 1948.

This report came less than a week after the drop in wholesale farm product prices of 4.5 per cent from July. Neither report was late enough to reflect increases which hit grain markets after the blight damage to corn reported August 17.

Higher prices for wheat, milk and lettuce partly offset the decline in prices for livestock, eggs and potatoes. Average prices received by farmers for all meat animals declined five per cent during the month and were four per cent below a year ago. Egg prices fell 10 per cent, when normally egg prices rise an average of four per cent between July 15 and August 15.

Chain stores, eager to please, were quick to pass the price declines on to customers. The inflation ease reached home quickly.

The Rise of Violence

In Philadelphia last week, three policemen were wounded in gun battles with militants barricaded in Black Panther centers, raising the toll of police casualties in the City of Brotherly Love in three days to one killed and six wounded. Police Commissioner Frank L. Rizzo, termed the situation in Philadelphia as "anarchy."

From New York and Trenton to Jacksonville and Los Angeles, riots took police lives or endangered them in a rising crescendo of violence. As the center of Black Panther action, Philadelphia was a special target for police action. Fifty heavily armed police seized rifles, shotguns, pistols and more than 100 rounds of ammunition at a Panther site and exchanged shotgun blasts and rifle fire at two other centers. Raiders found all three centers bore scrawled slogans, "Death to the pigs."

What was student riots last year has turned to violence by organized gangs who call themselves revolutionaries. It is about time enforcement officials took them at their word and acted to stamp out the violent revolutionaries before they decimate the police of the country.

Plan Safer Camps Now

As summer and the camping season end, it might be well for legislators on both the federal and the state level to turn their attention to developing codes that will insure the safety of all campers when 1971's season rolls around.

Again this past year, too many youngsters were injured and some killed because precautions were not taken to prevent unnecessary accidents. It is too easy for private camps and even those operated by publicly supported funds to provide camping experiences for children under conditions that are less than desirable.

Strict licensing requirements and thorough personnel standards are every bit as essential to organized camping as cabins and campfires.

Black Panther Lonnie McClucas' conviction of conspiracy to murder Alex Rackley, another Panther, by a jury of 10 whites and two blacks, in New Haven, Conn., was hailed by Defense Attorney Theodore I. Koskoff with the statement, "Anybody in minority group can get a fair trial in this state." McClucas was acquitted of three more serious charges.

The first large-scale test of the Safeguard ABM system was a success. A Minuteman ICBM fired from Vandenberg AFB, Calif., was intercepted by a Spartan ABM missile high over the Pacific 4,200 miles away. The distance traveled by the California projectile would equal a shot from inside Russia to New York.

A homing pigeon carrying a request for guns and drugs from an inmate at Walpole State Prison in Massachusetts became an unwitting "stool pigeon." Intercepted by police, it led to an investigation of the use of homing pigeons for prisoner communication with the outside world.

The two-thirds of the eligible voters who turned out for the Senate elections in South Vietnam while North Vietnamese and Viet Cong shelled and killed 55 at the polls, demonstrated a will to vote that we should envy. We barely turn out that ratio in normal elections.

Speaking to a carpenters' convention in San Francisco, AFL-CIO President George Meany said organized labor will help advance civil rights but will not give black preferred status. Had colleges adopted that policy, instead of lowering entrance requirements, a lot of campus trouble from unprepared students might have been avoided.

"They Followed Me Home!"

Henry J. Taylor Says

The Brandt-Kosygin Deal

BONN—Behind the scenes, our embassy here is flashing Secretary of State William P. Rogers many misgivings about the Russo-German friendship treaty, and our NATO leaders are privately in downright alarm.

No amount of face-saving diplomatic sing-song on the surface changes the underlying facts. The Brandt-Kosygin pact brings Russia into Europe, makes Russia (not the United States) the decisive power in Europe, and further fulfills the unwavering Soviet ambition to be the No. 1 power in the world instead of the United States.

The Kremlin is offering the Germans a privileged, preferential position in an area where the possibilities have always fascinated and attracted them. Our embassy can hardly forget Bismarck's eastward-pointing policies, the 1922 German deal with the Russians at Rapallo, the Hitler-Stalin pact, etc. Each, in turn, was ultimately disastrous for the Western entente. And now again, comes the Russian bait.

To achieve her tremendous and draining arms and outer-space expenditures and to finance her interventions in Vietnam, the Middle East and elsewhere, the Soviet has starved her people not only of food but of peace-oriented technology and capital.

But having got a grossly one-sided political treaty out of Chancellor Willy Brandt, the Soviet is now giving him the privilege of vastly improving the weaknesses in Russia's economy that are due to (1) Soviet militarism, (2) Soviet satellite imperialism, and (3) the repressive, inefficient Communist system itself.

Our worried embassy here is privately calling this "misdirected development aid with a vengeance."

Notoriously, the Kremlin uses trade as a political weapon. This country, France, Italy, Belgium, Britain and other NATO allies of the United States are already moderately involved—but only moderately. Now Brandt has agreed that West Germany is to supply the Soviet with technical and financial assistance and the erection of immense modern industries on a vast scale that includes even the opening up of far-off Siberian mineral resources.

Like the difference between wading in a pool and jumping off a ship in high seas, it is the vast dimensions of this Russo-Soviet deal that represent its real meaning. West Germany, next to the United States and only lately next to Japan, is the world's largest producer, and the Brandt-Kosygin pact makes West Germany literally a "working partner" of the USSR.

Our embassy feels that the Kremlin is saying that it's silly to buy golden eggs when you can buy the goose that lays them.

Meanwhile, time and inactivity and the cynical switches in Soviet velvet-glove, iron-first diplomacy have dulled the fighting edge of the resisting NATO forces that we so predominantly pay for over here, and all following the blow of France's operational withdrawal.

The NATO pact was signed in 1949, and West Germany was admitted in 1955. The cement that has held NATO together has been a fear of the USSR.

West Germany's 440,000-man force is the largest contingent. But of the entire NATO force, 310,000 are Americans—kept here at an estimated annual cost of $9,000 a man. And 250,000 of these 310,000 Americans stand here guarding West Germany against invasion while Brandt insists that none of these Americans be brought home.

Through all these years our NATO allies, except West Germany, have never supplied the forces of their own called for by the successive agreements. But the shocking deficiency now takes on added significance.

Our NATO commanders confirmed to me in Brussels that, if you include the French forces, NATO now has 1,950,000 soldiers and 4,200 planes in Western Europe. They also confirmed a leak that the United States has 16,000 atomic warheads deployed here. The Soviet short-range nuclear deployment is similar. And they gave me their estimate of the opposing Warsaw Pact forces. These are relentlessly growing, growing, growing.

Our NATO commanders find that there are today 2,815,000 soldiers and 12,250—yes, 12,250—military aircraft in the Soviet-led Warsaw Pact contingents. (If you add one to one, the most simple addition, the Warsaw Pact force now contains nearly a million more soldiers and about three times the air force of NATO.)

This is how we actually stand behind the scenes in the face of the Brandt-Kosygin deal.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

This has been the first long cool summer in six years. The agonizing struggle between white and black simmered quietly in the heat. It is still with us; it is alive; both sides have paused to catch their breath. In a way, it reminds me of a long strike—eventually it will be resolved, and who knows when and at what cost to the nation.

The worst feature is that no man speaks for all the blacks; no one man speaks for all the whites. Agreements in one area are contravened by courts in another. Roy Wilkins, the slender mild leader of the National Association of Colored People, evokes laughter from the Panthers. Eldridge Cleaver, who favored "eliminating" whites, lost all his bravery and hides on the other side of the world.

George Wallace, who would squeeze the Negro into odoriferous ghettos, isn't on speaking terms with Richard Nixon, who calls for school integration with a wink. Mississippi, which fought hardest against braiding the races, is inundated with blacks and may become the first Negro state.

Anyone who wants to understand the black viewpoint must read a magazine called Ebony. It employs the best writers, and interviews all shades of opinion. Slowly, inexorably, I find myself thinking that there is no way out of this mess. Some whites regard the blacks as an inferior race, and sadly, so do some of the blacks.

For every Ralph Bunche, we have ten thousand blacks who have lost hope. Except for the crazy young arsonists, the spirit and will has left the 22,000,000 Negroes in this country. They have been down in the bottom of the well so long that they cannot bear sunlight.

The Rev. Jesse Jackson of Chicago, a firebrand, says: "We are neither Africans nor Europeans. We're Afro-Americans. We are a hybrid people, a new breed of African people with a little Irish, German, Indian and so forth. . . . We are just as alien in most of Africa as we are in most of Europe."

In spite of all the preachments of men like the late Marcus Garvey, the American Negro does not want to return to the jungles of Africa.

He has had a taste of life here, and he will not settle for less. Nor are the new nations of Africa—with the exception of Liberia—willing to accept black Americans. This tends to lock him in here.

But he isn't satisfied here, because he's a second-rate citizen. He applauds when Jackie Robinson breaks the color line in baseball; when Thurgood Marshall does it on the Supreme Court; when Dr. Martin Luther King wins a Nobel prize. But—let's face it—these are sops: little tokens.

Someone once said that, in racial matters, the only free people in America are black women and white men. There may be a scent of truth in this, but the overtones are sexual. And this is where we get to the nitty-gritty of the struggle.

The whites do not want to socialize with the blacks. It is politically awkward that, ninety percent want to hold ten percent at arm's length, but it's true. The liberalism of the North was always a myth. In my time, I have bought nine houses—I owned one at a time—but I was always told by the Northern realtor that, if I decided to sell, I would be expected to keep property values up by not selling to Negroes.

The South understood the hypocrisy of the North but was unable to insist it until after the May 1954 ruling of the United States Supreme Court that "equal but separate" facilities were unjust. The inner fear of the Northern liberals began to emerge; there were riots, burnings, and picket lines.

For the first time, fear was displayed on all sides. The whites feared the blacks; the blacks were afraid of the whites. To counter-act the effect of white citizens councils in the South, Negroes organized groups which would separate the races farther than before.

As Jesse Jackson said: "Some black power people run the danger of supporting segregation without trying to change the system. Some are so bent on avoiding contact with white folks that they are willing to keep their inferior black school and let the whites have their superior school. If the whites are allowed to control, you will still have a separate but unequal system."

So, as schools desegregate, the blacks eat lunch by themselves. Their parents ache for equality, but no one knows what it is. No two men in the world are exactly equal in all fields.

The Negro has made gigantic strides. None of it satisfies him. He wants "all" "here" and "now." Anything, including liberty, taken by force must be regained by force. Ten percent can't beat ninety percent.

But it was a cool summer. Real cool . . .

Jack Anderson Says

Nixon Depending on Soviet Aid for Near East Peace

WASHINGTON — President Nixon, discussing the Arab-Israeli crisis in the privacy of San Clemente, told his advisers that only a Soviet-American deal can keep the peace in the Middle East.

It will take the two superpowers, he said, to keep the Israelis and the Arabs apart.

In the President's opinion, an agreement that is not approved and policed by the United States and the Soviet Union could never succeed.

While he is willing to act in the name of the United Nations, he believes any realistic settlement must be enforced by the two great powers. He also believes the settlement would have to be monitored by both Russian and American photo intelligence.

He told his advisers that both powers must agree to maintain the military balance by a precise, advance understanding on what weapons will be admitted in the Middle East.

As the President sees it, the U.S. must assure Israel that the Arabs wouldn't be able to use the truce to gain military superiority. He recognizes that the Russians must be able to make the same guarantee to the Arabs.

Reds Salvage Supplies

The American forces, in their hurry to clear out of Cambodia in time to meet President Nixon's withdrawal deadline, didn't have time to remove or destroy all the captured war material.

An estimated 15 per cent of the enemy's supplies had to be left behind in the former sanctuary. Intelligence reports assert that the North Vietnamese have now slipped back into their former bases to salvage the leftover stores.

They don't appear to be re-establishing their bases in the sanctuary. Rather, they are removing the material deeper inside of Cambodia where they are building new jungle bases.

Scott's Suggestion

This column has told how the brass hats, caught in a budget pinch, sometimes put their personal comforts ahead of the national interests.

They urged the withdrawal of troops from austere Korea, for example, rather than bring men home from more pleasant posts in Japan and Europe.

Clearly, 20,000 troops could be spared from Europe, where 295,000 men are guarding the Rhine and the Riviera, more conveniently than they can be withdrawn from Korea, where only 62,000 Americans are helping to guard the dangerous demilitarized zone.

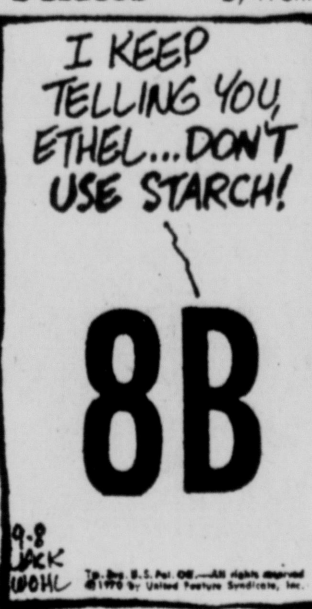

There is also less urgency for keeping 39,000 servicemen in Japan, which would like to get rid of some U.S. bases.

One who agrees is Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott who has quietly suggested to the White House that one of the bases in Japan should be shifted to Korea to compensate for the front-line withdrawal. The transfer would please both nations.

But, of course, it wouldn't please the brass hats who prefer the geisha houses of Tokyo to the bleak garrison on the Korean demarcation line.

U.S. Mood on War Is Misread

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The defeated Hatfield-McGovern proposal to end Vietnam war funding by late 1971 or early 1972 was at heart an effort by Senate doves to regain a political initiative taken from them by President Nixon more than a year ago.

Once he undertook unilateral withdrawal of U.S. troops from Vietnam, a step the most vigorous doves never urged even at the height of their earlier antiwar rhetoric, the ball slipped from their hands.

They have fumbled every attempt to get it back. Not this vote, nor repeal of the 1964 Gulf of Tonkin Senate resolution which presumably authorized presidential action in Vietnam nor any shouts of "Faster, faster," seem likely to pull much credit their way.

It is hard to avoid the judgment that in all these moves they are trying to vent their long-estrained anger over the war and to exact a kind of after-the-fact revenge against its managers in the White House and the Pentagon.

Predictably, they claim "moral victory" in coralling 39 votes for Hatfield-McGovern. The truth is it is much easier today, when the President is pulling men out, to muster votes for a specific timetable and fund cutoff date than would have been possible two years ago.

Everyone knows the national mood has changed. It is not dovish in the sense of peace at any price, but people are sick of casualties and weary of the futility of an indecisive war.

Editor, The Freeman:
On behalf of the Woodstock Fresh Air Committee I should like to thank you for the splendid publicity and coverage you have given our local Fresh Air Fund activities.

Without your aid we would have been denied the assistance and participation of countless persons who remembered reading about the Fresh Air Fund in The Freeman. With your help, each year brings an increasing number of homes open for a two-week period to these needy ghetto children.

Thank you for your marvelous cooperation.

Freeman Readers Write Letters to Editor

Source of Drugs
Editor, The Freeman:
I would like to know the purpose of spending millions of dollars on Rehabilitation centers and instituting new programs for drug addicts. While not doing anything about the source of the entire problem, why not start at the beginning by fighting this tremendous problem in Turkey, the source of all heroin in this country.

It can be done if the politicians who cry and make speeches about our young school age "addicts" really care about stopping drug addiction from spreading. If it were not so easily available, I am sure the number of new addicts each year would be half of what it is now.

The drugmakers are also guilty for the years pharmaceutical firms have been grinding out many times more amphetamines than are needed for recommended medical usage.

chronic overuse of these so-called "pep pills" has fast become one of the leading drug abuse problems in the nation. Its effects can be devastating ranging from severe skin reaction to desperate psychosis. The best estimates place the current production of amphetamines in United States laboratories at five billion a year, although the annual number of dosages for the drugs legitimate medical uses is a fraction of that. I urge the Food and Drug Administration to act. As it asking too much of the drug companies themselves to put people before profits?

Points Out Inaccuracies
Editor, The Freeman:
For a very special personal reason I am grateful to The Freeman for the space given my activities in your issue of August 8th, which reached me somewhat belatedly.

I should like, however, to correct some inaccuracies in the account of your unauthorized informant. The total schedule of activity ascribed to me would make it appear that perhaps I had succeeded where Ponce De Leon failed. I do assist the pastors of Assumption Parish, Pompano Beach, and St. Helen's, Fort Lauderdale, by offering Masses when they need assistance for the convenience of their parishioners, but the credit for the organization and success of the Religious Education program belongs very largely to a retired Army Chaplain, Rev. Monsignor (Colonel) Maurice Sullivan, of the Archdiocese of New York.

It is true that my interest in Kingston, my home for almost 30 years, and my many friends and acquaintances there is manifested by my continuing subscription to The Freeman and by my disappointment, when by the vagaries of the postal service my copy is lost and undelivered. But my last word from General Flanagan (July 27th) was that of his five children four are in school, and his older son in service in Vietnam. He has no other descendants.

The child for whose baptism I went to Fort Walton Beach is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Nau Jr., of Elgin Air Force Base, formerly of Saugerties, and a grandniece of General Flanagan, not a descendant.

With renewed gratitude to The Freeman and with kind personal regards,

Very truly yours,

The Establishment
Editor, The Freeman
Who are we? We don't throw

Molotov cocktails, plan the assassination of policemen, throw bricks at cars, break university windows, spit on the flag, insult our president at every opportunity, praise the communists as every opportunity, make heroes of draft dodgers, belittle the husband-wife relationship, and scorn babies.

Yes, you guessed it! We are the establishment. Why, we should be ashamed for not doing all these noble deeds in the name of "freedom," shouldn't we? After all, our constitution guarantees freedom of speech, so let's get out and really pick, pick, pick at all the things our administration does. Let's not stop to think whether they are good or bad.

We are not living in a police state so let's get on with the looting, burning and shooting. The "fuzz" can't do a thing to us, and if they do, we'll yell "police-brutality!"

Oh, isn't freedom wonderful? We can even be honored with the presence of Commies and their sympathizers in the school system if, of course, we are careful not to put too many stumbling blocks in their way, such as denying them membership in the A.F.T. Maybe Johnny won't learn to read, but he'll surely know how to sneer at his ignorant parents, and pay homage to "Big Brother."

Freedom is "cool." Let's abuse it.
Oh dear, I forgot, we are not members of the new leftist organizations, just plain God and Country loving Americans who don't want to abuse our constitutional freedom, just to be grateful for it.

Sincerely,

In Fashion Battle of the 70's 'Mini' Wins Over Other Dress Styles Among Adults Under 30

PRINCETON, N.J. — In the current lively debate over the length of hemlines, a nationwide Gallup survey finds the "miniskirt" preferred by adults under 30 over all other dress styles, including the "midi" and the "maxi."

Older adults, however, show a strong preference for the compromise "at or near the knee" length over the mini-skirt (which is well above the knee), the "midi" (well below the knee) and the "maxi" (floor length).

In assessing the style preferences of the public, it should be borne in mind not only that the "mini" Older adults, however, show a strong preference for the compromise

"at or near the knee" length over the mini-skirt (which is well above the knee), the "midi" (well below the knee) and the "maxi" (floor length). In assessing the style preferences of the public, it should be borne in mind not only that the "mini" and the "maxi" are relatively new to the fashion scene but that the question measures only first preferences. For example some women whose first choice is the "mini" undoubtedly would not mind having a "midi" or a "maxi" in their wardrobe as well.

Analysis of the results by region of the country shows the "mini" to be twice as popular in the East and Far West as in the South and Midwest.

A total of 1501 adults 21 and older were interviewed in person in the current survey, which was conducted July 31-August 2 in more than 300 scientifically selected communities across the nation. This question was asked:

Which one of these four dress lengths do you like best — (1) the mini — that is, skirts well above the knee; (2) skirts at the knee; (3) the midi — that is, skirts below the knee, or (4) the maxi — that is, floor length?

Another Resignation Possible In N.Y. Police Department

NEW YORK (UPI) — The search for a new commissioner to head the nation's largest police force was further complicated today by reports that the top ranking uniformed police commander will follow the lead of Commissioner Howard R. Leary and also resign from the force.

Leary, appointed commissioner by Mayor John V. Lindsay in 1966, announced his resignation in a surprise move Saturday. It came amid reports of bitter differences between the mayor and the commissioner over investigations of alleged corruption among policemen and the response to a series of unprovoked attacks on policemen.

The New York Times said today Chief Inspector George P. McManus, would resign after 17 years in his present post. The newspaper said McManus, 51, would join the National Auto Theft Bureau, the insurance industry's anticrime agency.

Lindsay was reported to be considering Detroit Police Commissioner Patrick V. Murphy, 50, who served on the New York force for 23 years and also has been director of public safety for Washington, D.C., as Leary's successor. But Murphy said Monday he had not been approached about the job.

The Traffic Squad Benevolent Association, a militant group representing about 2,500 of the city's 32,000 policemen, urged Lindsay to appoint Robert M. Morgenthau, former U. S. Attorney who served briefly as deputy mayor earlier this year.

Relations between Leary, former Philadelphia police commissioner, and Lindsay have been increasingly strained in recent weeks.

Leary was reported disturbed by Lindsay's edict that investigations of charges against all city employees, including police be conducted by the City Investigation Commissioner. In the past police have conducted their own investigations into possible wrongdoing in the ranks.

The mayor already had named a special commission to look into charges of widespread corruption.

Lindsay and Leary both stated after a hastily called

Ky Reconsiders Visit to U. S.; Fears Protests

SAIGON (AP) — Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky is reconsidering his scheduled trip to the United States next month, a government spokesman said today.

Ky has accepted an invitation to attend an Oct. 3 rally in Washington by supporters of U.S. policy in Vietnam. A government spokesman said Ky was reconsidering the trip but had made no decision yet on whether it should be canceled.

A spokesman for Ky confirmed the announcement and said he expected a final decision soon. He said "new facts" had been brought to Ky's attention by the South Vietnamese ambassador to Washington, Bui Diem, and by Dang Duc Khoi, a top Ky aide now in Washington.

Ky's spokesman would not go into detail. It was reported, however, that Khoi and possibly others had been advising Ky against the trip, fearing it could touch off protests by anti-war groups and damage relations between Washington and Saigon.

The U.S. mission said there had been no contact between its officials and Ky about the trip and that he had not begun any formal preparation for it.

Trooper E. R. Hans noted in his investigation report that Eddie James Lawrence, 34, of Belle Glade, Fla., was heading south on the highway when his vehicle failed to negotiate a left curve. The car veered off the pavement and flipped over coming to a stop on its wheels. Lawrence, the lone occupant, sustained lacerations of the head and bruises. He was summoned to appear at a later date before Hurley Town Justice Alton Boyce to face a charge of driving a motor vehicle at a speed not reasonable and prudent.

Blacks Don't Agree On Road to Progress

By United Press International
Black organizations held conventions in three cities over the Labor Day weekend and their solutions for black problems were as divergent as their sites.

Richard Hatcher, mayor of Gary, Ind., told the first annual Congress of African Peoples in Atlanta that Congress may provide "some answers, some ways and means by which black people may not only become mayors of major American cities" but may also redefine political jurisdictions.

But the Black Panther Convention in Philadelphia indicated it had little faith in the U.S. Constitution and made plans to draft a proposed new constitution "through which we can express our revolutionary spirit."

At Mobile, Ala., Roy Innis, national director of the Congress of African Peoples, told the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), pledged his commitment to total integration as a remedy for the "cancerous ills" of America.

"I am here to serve notice on white racist America that it will never again be like it was," Abernathy said.

Poet Leroi Jones told the Congress of African Peoples which drew 2,200 blacks from 33 countries, that he foresees African peoples around the world "united into a single political instrument capable of dealing with international issues for Africans everywhere in the world as well as in cities."

Georgia legislator Julian Bond called the conference "a spiritual coming home" and said it would "have an effect on black people ... throughout the world."

White newsmen were excluded from the meetings of the conference, but open news conferences were held later.

WCTU Condemns Alcohol, Drugs Among Others

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Alcohol, narcotics, the practice of "sensitivity training," sex education and war have been condemned in a series of resolutions adopted by the 96th annual convention of the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

Alcohol was criticized by delegates in a resolution Monday for "its role in brain, heart, liver and other bodily damage."

Another resolution described the use of narcotics as a terrible hazard to life and property.

Sensitivity training was described as a "strange and new doctrine" and criticized because "it promotes nudity as a means of casting off inhibitions, fears, unpleasant moral convictions, shame and guilt complexes."

Another resolution opposed sex education on the grounds that such instruction should be a family matter.

War, said another resolution, "is destructive to life and property and ... there are better ways of settling differences between nations." The resolution supported President Nixon's efforts to bring "a speedy end to the war in the Far East and in the Middle East."

Mrs. Fred J. Toole of Evansville, Ill., was unanimously re-elected president of the union for a 12th one-year term.

Teacher Contract Stalemates May Delay School Openings

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Some school districts across New York State face the prospect of going into the new academic year today and Wednesday with teachers refusing to report for classes out of frustration over contract stalemates.

Two separate reports over the weekend show that thousands of elementary and secondary pupils will be returning to school systems where teachers and school boards are bitterly divided over salaries and other issues.

In some cases, the start of classes may be postponed as the result of teachers adhering to a "no-contract, no-work" position. The National Education Association said in Washington, D.

C., that there are critical stalemates in eight New York districts that employ 5,000 teachers.

The districts on the NEA list were Buffalo, Niagara Falls, Port Jervis, Auburn, Ballston Spa, Bethlehem Central near Albany, Gates-Chili near Rochester and Connetquot on Long Island.

That report also indicated that the association was concerned about 35 other districts in New York where contract disputes have not been settled. It did not list those districts.

The Buffalo Teachers Federation and board of education reached a tentative contract agreement Monday and five hours later the federation membership approved the contract, 1,275-104, at a meeting where a strike vote had originally been expected.

Members of the Niagara Falls Teachers Association, however, voted Monday night to strike that city's public schools beginning Tuesday morning. The strike resolution came after members voted 218-131 to reject the board of education's final offer.

Meanwhile, an official of the New York State Teachers Association told The Associated Press he was certain that there would be other districts where teachers will not choose to work on the opening day of classes.

The prediction was made by Dean E. Streiff, NYSTA's director of regional services. Streiff said he considered the situation "rather serious" in the districts listed by NEA plus the cities of Poughkeepsie and Peekskill, Springville in Erie County, Wappingers Falls and Arlington in the mid-Hudson region and the McGraw District in the state's Southern Tier.

Streiff maintains that, while salaries are a critical part of the negotiating, teachers also are striving to win more recognition as professionals who will have a major role in decision-making in their district.

He cited in particular decisions about class size, the maintenance of programs in the face of budget cut-backs and the number of teacher aides.

Streiff also charged that this year an increasing number of school boards are performing "a ritual," rather than engaging in serious collective bargaining.

He called these "attempts to make unilateral determinations short of bilateral agreements." By Streiff's calculations, there were 20,000 teachers in the state who still did not have contracts as of last Saturday, with 50 districts at impasse or awaiting membership action on tentative settlements.

Last spring, there were strikes in three Long Island districts. They lasted 10 or 11 days and were ended when it was agreed to submit the issues to arbitration.

8 Nabbed in Ransacking Upstate Federal Building

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Eight young persons broke into the Rochester federal building Sunday and ransacked the offices of the selective service system, the FBI and the assistant U.S. attorney.

All eight, including four women and the son of a college president, were in the Monroe County jail today. Police and FBI agents said they still did not know who one of the women was.

Agents also said they were investigating the possibility that others were involved in the raid. Four of the men and two of the women identified themselves.

The six were held in lieu of bail on charges of destroying government records and forcible entry into a federal building.

The two who would not identify themselves were ordered held without bail on the same charges.

FBI agents said the eight entered the building early Sunday. All the doors were found locked and agents speculated the group climbed into the building through an open window.

Once inside, the eight forced open the doors to the selective service office and scattered the files. Selective service officials said among the records scattered were those for youths born in 1951—the prime age group in next year's draft.

Col. John W. Brokaw, state director of the selective service system, said duplicate files were kept "in Rochester somewhere" and inductions would continue on schedule. The office housed records for boards 73 through 76.

In the FBI office, the eight broke into the arsenal and scattered weapons on the floor. The group did not attempt to remove the weapons from the building, agents said.

Some of the eight were armed with cans of spray paint, slogans such as "Liberty" and "Justice" were painted on the walls.

Among the group was John T. Glick, son of the president of Keuka College, a girls school in Yates County.

Glick, 20, of Philadelphia has reportedly been a member of the "East Coast Conspiracy to Save Lives," a group held responsible for a similar raid on a Philadelphia selective service office.

The Associated Press in New York City and the Rochester Democrat and Chronicle both received anonymous telephone calls Sunday morning telling of the raid.

In the call to the Rochester newspaper, a man said "the people who did this wanted to show that non-violent direct action could be used to effectively stop war and oppression."

Karl Brouse, special agent in charge of Western New York FBI operations, said his agents were investigating the possibility of others being involved.

The eight were captured shortly after a city patrolman saw one of the men running inside the building. The group surrendered without a fight.

Arrested besides Glick were Francis Callahan, 21, and Joan Nicholson, 36, both of Philadelphia; Wayne Bonekemper, 20, and Suzanne Williams, 21, both of Rochester, and Joseph T. Gilchrist, 22, of Ithaca.

Also arrested was Martha J. Meyerding, 22, of Philadelphia. Agents said Miss Meyerding was one of two women who refused to identify herself Sunday.

The identity of the eighth person, who told reporters she was DeCoursey Squire of Rochester, remained uncertain.

Rhinebeck Town Board Gets Zoning Law Proposal

By TIM SCHUSTER

RHINEBECK
The Town of Rhinebeck's proposed comprehensive zoning law has moved into the hands of the Town Board, after numerous revisions by the Planning Board.

Supervisor William Allen told The Freeman Friday that the proposed law would be thoroughly reviewed by members of both boards before a final public hearing date can be set up. He has expressed the hope that some decision might be made before winter comes.

The law, which has been almost three years in reaching this final stage, has apparently taken all the revision it could stand, as members of the Planning Board voted 6-0, with one abstention, to move it squarely onto the collective shoulders of the Town Board.

One major recent change involved dropping all fee recommendations from the law, which were to accompany filing applications in many categories.

The cost of processing these applications, including advertising, materials, and public hearing costs, will be absorbed by all taxpayers through real estate taxes.

Another major change will give commercial growth outside the Village of Rhinebeck a more desirable location for possible future shopping plaza development.

The Planning Board opened up an area with about 1,000 feet of frontage on the east side of Route 9 on Astor Flats, running south from the Williams Lumber Company, and extending to the rear of the Kennett property.

The use of Astor Flats property for commercial purposes had long been a bone of contention, as it was originally zoned for agricultural and residential usage. Most of it still is.

But the largest single change in the law was made in mid-summer when acreage minimum requirements were chopped in half by the Planning Board in the two largest designations in the town.

All areas designated five acres were reduced to 2½ acres, and all three-acre areas reduced to 1½ acres, with corresponding reductions in frontage requirements.

Much pressure from those who described themselves as the have-nots of the town was brought to bear at all public hearings to reduce the acreage requirements.

Meanwhile, the Dutchess County Planning Board has been instrumental in preserving much of the original intent of the zoning law in backing Chairman Homer K. Staley in opposition to many changes both felt would weaken its effectiveness.

Thus, the compromise result, which will ultimately be either approved or disapproved, by members of the Town Board, has reached its final stage. The public will have one more opportunity to voice its opinions on the law, which will greatly affect all residents and future residents of the town.

The Freeman asked Supervisor Allen what he thought of the law as it now stands. He answered, "I think we will eventually have zoning. This law has some bugs in it, but it is not that bad."

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks opened mixed in moderate turnover today.

Despite a generally favorable economic news background, analysts noted that several factors could restrain demand for stocks at this time. Among them are the threatened strike in the automobile industry and Israel's withdrawal from the Middle East peace talks in protest against reported violations of the month-old truce by the United Arab Republic.

Shortly after the opening, the Dow Jones industrial average showed a gain of 0.28 at 771.43. Of the 368 issues on the tape, declines edged advances, 148 to 137.

Walter Korda opened 1/4 higher at 22 1/2, while American Telephone gained 1/2 to 47 1/2 on a block of 17,500 shares. However, Xerox fell 1/2 to 80 1/2.

Westinghouse dipped 1/4 to 68 1/2 in the electronics, while Burroughs surrendered 1/2 to 115, and Memorex 1 1/2 to 71 1/2. Fairchild Camera fell 1/2 to 25 1/2. Texas Instruments 1 1/4 to 78 1/2, and IBM 1 1/4 to 270 1/2. Control Data, however, picked up 1/2 to 40 1/2.

In the chemicals, Union Carbide lost 1/4 to 39 1/2, with DuPont down 1/4 to 124 1/2. Eastman Kodak rose 1/4 to 65 1/2.

Parley Slated Thursday To Head Off Rail Strike

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Labor James D. Hodgson conferred today with presi-

Saugerties Man Arrested on Drug Charge

KINGSTON

Accused of criminal possession of dangerous drugs fourth degree and loitering for the purpose of administering drugs first degree, James V. Todaro, 23, of R.D. 3, Box 322, Saugerties, was arrested by City police Saturday night.

Police reports noted that Todaro was accused of having in his possession 12 wax paper packages that allegedly contained heroin. The arrest was made on the Academy Green in uptown Kingston. Todaro was held for an appearance in City Court.

Also arrested on a charge of loitering was 19-year-old Colleen Ann O'Rourke, whose address was listed as 65 Greenkill Avenue. She was scheduled to appear before City Judge Hubert A. Richter.

Joiners

The stated assembly of Ancient City Council, Royal and Select Masters will be held in the Secret Vault, 31 Albany Avenue, on Thursday at 8 p.m. All Select Masters are invited to be present.

dents of four railroad unions in an effort to head off a nationwide rail strike scheduled for 12:01 a.m. Thursday.

The presidents of the two largest rail unions, C. L. Dennis of the Brotherhood of Railway and Airline Clerks, and Charles Luna of the United Transportation Union, said before entering the meeting with Hodgson that the deadline for the strike, over wages, remains firm.

Their unions represent some 200,000 rail workers each. The two smaller unions involved are the Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees with about 100,000 members and the Hotel and Restaurant Employees and Bartenders union with about 4,000 rail workers.

President Nixon could delay a strike for 60 days under emergency provisions of the Railway Labor Act, but Asst. Secretary of Labor W. J. Usery said no such decision had been made.

The Labor Department has scheduled joint meetings between the union officials and rail industry negotiators later today in an effort to get a negotiated settlement.

Dennis said he hopes progress can be made through the negotiations, but pointed out that talks had been dragged out for a year and "Our people are up in arms this time because of the long delay."

Any wage increase for the workers, who now average around $3.50 per hour, would be retroactive to last Jan. 1.

Last Weekend A Quiet One; Few Ceremonies

Little in the way of formal ceremony marked Labor Day 1970 as tens of millions of Americans enjoyed the summer's last long weekend.

The one major get-together was in Washington where President Nixon had 190 top union leaders and their wives over for dinner at the White House.

Some rank and filers worked as usual but the majority enjoyed a holiday from the job-marred chiefly by the crush of traffic when the time came to go home.

With the high traffic volume came fatal accidents. In all, more than 560 persons died on the nation's highways between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight, local time, Monday.

New York, once the site of large Labor Day parades, had neither a march nor a rally for the second straight year. And Detroit, where Labor Day rallies traditionally open Democratic presidential campaigns, also was bare of celebration.

But the Motor City was a focus of attention as bargainers for the United Auto Workers Union and the Big Three automakers spent part of the holiday laboring against a contract expiration deadline next Monday.

While the few small parades offered little challenge to sanitation men afterward, the big cleanup task was along the nation's roads.

The Keep America Beautiful organization estimated that the litter discarded from cars on Labor Day would be enough to cover 1,500 miles of two-lane highway to a depth of 12 inches.

Arrested on Trespass Charges

ELLENVILLE

Sixteen persons were arrested late Saturday night by State Police on charges of criminal trespass in the fourth degree, after they were found setting up camp on the property of Philip Slutsky in the community of Yagerville.

Troopers said the property owner had made numerous complaints about what he termed hippies camping in the area in recent weeks.

Troopers W. E. Hubert and P. R. Barber arraigned the group — men and women — before Town of Denning Justice Clifford Warren. Fifteen entered pleas of guilty and paid fines of $5 each. The charge against the other person was dismissed.

Sergeant J. F. Fitzgerald said the defendants were all from the Long Island and New York areas.

Raids Net 47 In Greene on Drugs, Trespass

TOWN OF HUNTER

Two separate raids by authorities in two areas of this township Sunday night resulted in the arrests of 47 persons on a variety of charges involving criminal trespass and possession of dangerous drugs and implements adapted for the use of narcotics.

State Police from Leeds, Town of Hunter police, Greene County deputy sheriffs and State Game protectors from that county, swooped down on a camping area in the vicinity of Roaringkill and arrested 16 men and women on the drugs and implement charges.

Troopers said they seized a quantity of marijuana and LSD and implements including pipes. The raid was directed by Senior BCI Investigator M. P. Matera, and Sergeant R. W. Miller and Hunter Police Chief Warren Knaust. The raid was conducted at 11 p.m.

Earlier on Sunday, the same police officers arrested 31 persons on charges of criminal trespass on the Colgate property off Route 23A in this township.

All defendants were from the New Jersey and New York City areas, police said.

They were scheduled for arraignments.

Deny Reports Of Ransom Word

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (UPI)—U. S. and Brazilian Embassy spokesmen said today adviser to the Uruguayan Tupamaro terrorists who kidnapped two foreigners have not communicated with them and denied knowledge of reports the kidnappers were demanding $1 million ransom.

Two Montevideo newspapers reported Sunday U. S. farm consultant Claude L. Fly, 65, of Fort Collins, Colo., and Brazilian Consul Aloysio Dias Gomide, 41, would be freed if the ransom were paid.

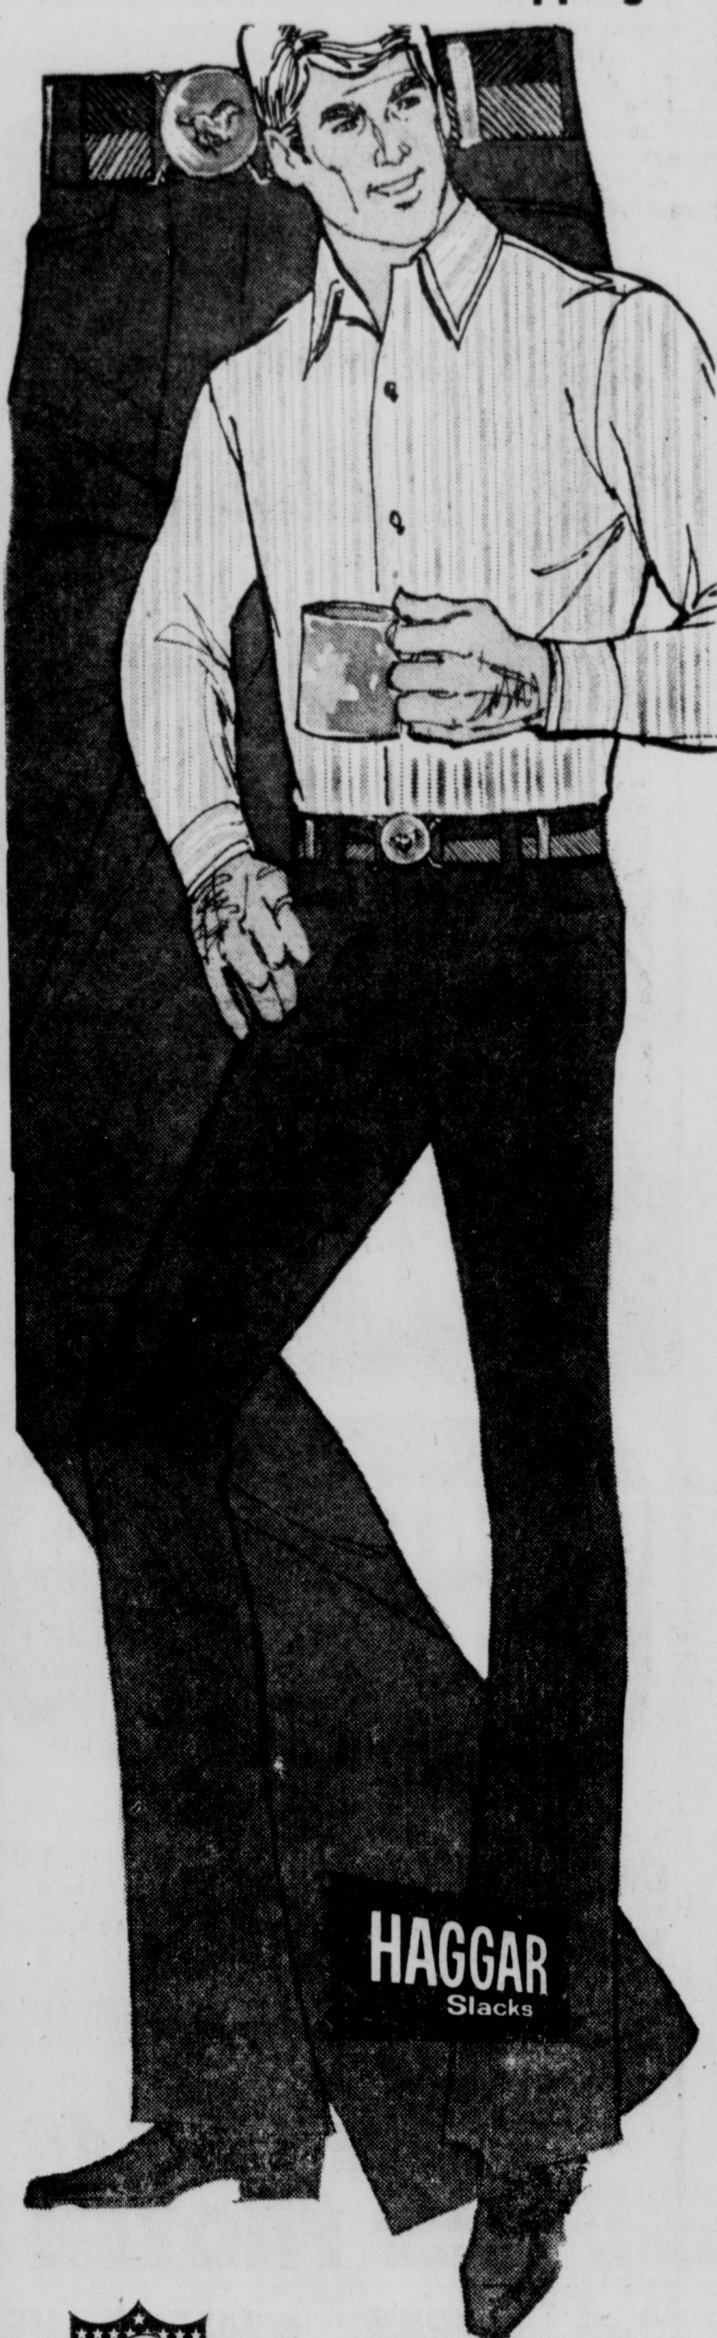

Andre Guimaraes, Brazilian Embassy first secretary, said the embassy was not negotiating with the kidnappers.

Gomide was kidnapped July 31 and Fly Aug. 7.

The Rev. Aaron C. Storm from L'Anse, Mich., officiated at the double ring ceremony, assisted by the Rev. Albert Aho of Apostolic Lutheran Church. Organist James Sweeney provided traditional wedding selections. White baskets of white gladioli mixed with violet and pink carnations and pompons decorated the altar and white ribbons marked the family pews.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride selected an A-line gown of white dotted Swiss, fashioned with an empire bodice and long wide sleeves. The waistline was banded with Venise lace insertion accented with satin ribbon. The wide sleeves and long mantilla were edged with Venise lace motifs. Her mantilla was draped to a Camelot cap of matching lace and she carried a cascade bouquet of white, orchid and pink carnations accented with ivy.

Mrs. Arne Suominen Jr. of St. Remy was matron of honor in a violet dotted Swiss gown, fashioned with a scooped neckline and long full sleeves. Silk floral braid accented the empire waistline and banded the cuffed sleeves. She wore

For her wedding trip through the New England States to Rhode Island, the bride selected a pink crepe dress with matching accessories.

The bride, a graduate of Kingston High School, attended Ulster County Community College, and was employed at IBM, Kingston, as a secretary. She will be employed as a legal secretary for N. Urso, attorney at law, in Westbury, R. I.

The Rev. David C. Gaise officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Lester Decker provided traditional wedding selections. Arrangements of white gladioli decorated the altar and white satin bows marked the family pews.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length, natural-waisted gown of white crepe satin which she had designed and created. The gown was styled with bishop sleeves of silk organza, a sweetheart neckline and a full skirt. It was embroidered with lace motifs at the cuffs and waistline and featured pearl buttons at the back. Her chapel-length, imported, Alencon lace mantilla and net silk illusion blusher were edged with scalloped lace and attached to a headpiece of her own childhood braids. She carried an arm bouquet of white gladioli and carnations with orchid bows.

Riche-Conner Nuptials Announced

MRS. THOMAS F. CONNER
(Lakeside Studio)

Miss Kathleen Rose Riche of Gardiner became the bride of Thomas F. Conner of Gardiner, Saturday, Aug. 22 at St. Charles Borromeo Church in Gardiner.

The bride is the daughter of the late Victor P. Riche and Mrs. Mary Riche. Her husband is the son of Mrs. Hilda Conner of Wallkill and the late William Conner.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Robert E. Moore officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Seeland of Modena directed the choral group of five local girls who sang traditional wedding selections. Baskets of white flowers decorated the altar.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Leonard Riche, the bride wore a white satin gown styled with long sleeves, an Alencon lace front outlined with seed pearls, and cathedral train. A small pillbox covered with Alencon lace and seed pearls held her cathedral length veil with Alencon lace border and appliques. She carried one red rose and one white rose, a symbol of unity.

Muriel Bradshaw, sister of the bride, Farmers Turnpike in Gardiner, was matron of honor for her sister in a hot pink gown trimmed with light pink. She carried one light pink rose with matching ribbon.

MILK & MILK PRODUCTS

From infancy throughout adulthood, you need milk, says Louis K. Breitung, Extension Home Economist. Without milk in your diet it is hard to get enough calcium for healthy bones and riboflavin for healthy skin and nerves. Milk also supplies high quality (complete) protein at low cost. A 30 cent quart of milk gives children most of their recommended daily dietary allowance of protein, while teens and adults get more than half of their daily protein needs. Vitamin A, phosphorus, and thiamine are also present in good amounts, but milk and dairy products provide very little iron and ascorbic acid (vitamin C).

Nutritionists recommend milk daily in the following quantities:

- Children, under 9 years—2 to 3 cups (each cup = 8 fluid ounces).
- Children, 9 to 12—3 or more cups.
- Teenagers—4 or more cups.
- Adults, all ages—2 or more cups.

- Expectant mothers—3 or more cups.
- Nursing mothers—4 or more cups.

Milk products, such as cheese and ice cream, and foods prepared with milk can provide some of your milk quota; so can fluid or dry skim milk, buttermilk, or evaporated milk. Wise buying and proper storing of dairy products can help you enjoy milk daily.

Chocolate milk and chocolate drink are two different dairy beverages made by adding chocolate to whole or skim milk. They sometimes contain vanilla, salt, and a stabilizer to keep the beverages well mixed.

Chocolate milk is made with whole milk. If skim or partially skimmed milk is used, the label will say chocolate drink. Regulations require label distinctions.

3 BROTHERS
HAS THEM!

Barbara Weber of Alexandria, Va. was maid of honor for her cousin in a light pink gown trimmed with hot pink. She carried a dark pink rose trimmed with matching ribbon.

Ann Zaccheo of New Paltz was an attendant and Diana Stockli of Wallkill, niece of the bridegroom, served as junior bridesmaid. All attendants wore Camelot caps with floor-length veils to match their gowns. Ann Zaccheo wore a hot pink gown trimmed with light pink and carried one light pink rose with a matching ribbon. The junior bridesmaid wore a light pink gown trimmed with hot pink and carried one dark pink rose with matching ribbon.

Tina Togni of Dover, N. J., niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl in a light pink gown trimmed with hot pink and she carried a basket of rose petals accented with a nosegay of pink roses and carnations.

William Conner, brother of the bridegroom, Gardiner, was best man. Ushers were John McDowell of Alexandria, Va.; Craig Scofield, Newburgh; Keith MacEntee, Gardiner, nephew of the bridegroom; and Paige Dale Bradshaw, Gardiner, nephew of the bride.

A reception for 125 guests was held at Villa Lipani, South Ohioville Road, New Paltz.

For her wedding trip to Niagara Falls and Canada, the bride chose a lavender, two-piece ensemble with white accessories.

The bride, a 1965 graduate of New Paltz Central School, was graduated from State University College at New Paltz in 1969, and is employed by Pine Bush Central School. Her husband, a 1961 alumnus of Wallkill Central School, served in the U. S. Marine Corps, stationed in Vietnam, and is employed by IBM, East Fishkill.

Mr. and Mrs. Conner will reside at Main Street, Gardiner.

PEANUT BUTTER

New York, N. Y. (NAPS)—Peanut butter is much more than a favorite spread! It is an ingredient in countless good recipes to which it gives its rich flavor. Chunky peanut butter also adds the interesting texture crispness of chopped peanuts.

Nothing could be easier than the Peanut Butter Parfait and Peanut Butter Ice Cream featured here which was developed in the Skippy Test Kitchens.

The parfait calls for preparing instant vanilla pudding according to package instructions, chilling and then folding in crushed pineapple. Peanut butter is mixed with graham cracker crumbs and the pudding and crumb mixture are layered alternately in clear glasses to show off the interesting contrast in color and texture.

The Peanut Butter Ice Cream is even simpler than the Parfait. It consists of beating air into peanut butter in a mixer until it is very soft and light in color and adding vanilla ice cream a little at a time, beating after each addition. This special ice cream treat is then refrozen.

Peanut Butter Parfait

One (three and three-quarter package vanilla instant pudding

One (eight and three-quarter ounce) can crushed pineapple, drained

One-half cup creamy or chunk style peanut butter

One and one-half cups vanilla wafer or graham cracker crumbs

Whipped cream or topping

Prepare pudding according to package directions. Chill. Fold in pineapple. Mix together peanut butter and crumbs. Spoon alternate layers of crumbs and pudding into parfait glasses, beginning and ending with crumbs. Chill. Top with whipped cream. Makes four servings.

Peanut Butter Ice Cream

One cup creamy peanut butter

One quart vanilla ice cream, softened

Beat peanut butter with mixer at high speed until soft and light in color. Add ice cream a little at a time, beating well after each addition. Beat until light and fluffy. Pour into ungreased (nine by five by three-inch) metal loaf pan. Freeze about two hours or until firm. Makes eight (one-half cup) servings.

Jo Ann Miller's First Play Being Produced at Cooperstown

Jo Ann Miller, a resident of Cooperstown since 1957 and a successful singer, producer, actress and writer of songs and original material for her night club acts, has written her first play, "Will the Real Mrs. Fineberg Please Stand Up?" It is being introduced by the Cooperstown Playhouse now through Sept. 13. The play is a rollicking farce about a mild-mannered historian who shocks his family and friends by writing a modern sex novel. In the role of the historian is Curtis Wheeler returning to the Playhouse where he has been a favorite comedian for the past 12 seasons. He comes from two years on Broadway in "Don't Drink the Water."

Opposite Wheeler as his wife is Betty Munro, the resident company's leading lady this season. Jo Ann Miller plays the part of an ex-stripe-tease dancer. In the hilarious role of an effeminate house-boy is Hank Roberts who not only has won rave reviews for his roles this season, his third at the Playhouse, but who has become popular as a member of the regular troupe who appear nightly next door to the theatre in Jo Ann Miller's Act IV Revue.

Collaborating with Jo Ann Miller by doing the staging of "Will the Real Mrs. Fineberg Please Stand Up?" is Mary Ann Dentler, director of all Cooperstown Playhouse productions since 1957. She is a veteran of more than 50 years in show business. Her credits go back to silent movies. She pioneered summer stock theatre when the depression of the late 20's temporarily closed legitimate theatre.

What motivated Jo Ann Miller to write a play when she has a busy schedule pleasing the public with her many other creative talents? "It is becoming increasingly difficult to find Broadway plays that a resident stock company would want to produce or that our audiences would enjoy. Another reason why I wanted to write a play is that the just-for-fun plays that used to fill Broadway don't seem to be written anymore. The New York Theatre is full of so-called "message" shows. We get enough of that in the news without belaboring all the problems on the stage of today's living. I believe Broadway audiences are looking for the same light entertainment."

Others in the cast are Terrence McKers, who will be remembered as the puppeteer in the Playhouse production of Carnival, Judith Gordon, who played opposite him as Lili, Marguerite Geha who began her career with Mary Ann Dentler. She played the lead in this season's Take My Wife. With these troupers are Tom Goodyear, a Cooperstown resident in his third season as a member of the Playhouse Actors' Equity Company. Acting is his hobby when not raising turkeys on his Cary Mede Farm.

Will the Real Mrs. Fineberg Please Stand Up? can be seen at the Cooperstown Playhouse through Sept. 13. Curtain is 8:30 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday; 5:30 p.m. on Sundays, followed by the Act IV Revue next door for those who wish to continue their evening after theatre. Both are closed Mondays. Reservations may be made by calling the Playhouse.

MRS. FINEBERG will be followed by the last play of the Playhouse season "I Do, I Do!"

BAKED APPLES are stuffed with a mincemeat mixture that has been seasoned and flavored with a touch of Angostura bitters. An aromatic and delightful dessert idea.

Stuffed Aromatic Apples Are Mouth-Watering Dessert

"An apple," a young mother said recently, "is my idea of a convenience food."

She had her good reasons. A bowlful is at home on the kitchen table and a bagful goes along on a picnic. A single apple will keep a youngster occupied and reasonably subdued for some little time while on a car trip or a toddler satisfied during a ride in a shopping cart at the supermarket.

Young and old alike, everybody is welcome to satisfy his own appetite. Nobody has to ask if he can help himself to an apple if there are some in the house.

"If that isn't a convenience, I don't know what is," our friend said. "I don't need to worry about refrigeration or even a piece of plastic wrap. An apple is an apple, sufficient unto itself."

Unless, of course, you choose to do your own thing with it. Some evening it just might happen that the bowl of apples sitting conveniently on the kitchen table will suggest a dessert for dinner. How about baking some of them? Better yet, how about stuffing those apples before baking them.

Here's an unusual recipe and an unusually good one. The stuffing is basically mincemeat, but that is given rich distinctive flavor by the addition of Angostura aromatic bitters. This blend of tropical herbs and spices diffuses right into the stuffing mixture and through it to the meat of the apple. The result is mouth-watering taste. Angostura bitters has a way of blending other flavors until it brings out the best in all. Never did a baked apple taste so good. Try it and see.

Stuffed Baked Apples

Six baking apples

One and one-half cups prepared mincemeat

Two teaspoons grated lemon rind

One-half cup chopped nuts

Two teaspoons Angostura aromatic bitters

One-quarter cup butter or margarine

Two tablespoons cornstarch

Juice and grated rind of one lemon

One cup water

Core apples and peel thinly halfway down the apple. Mix mincemeat, lemon rind and nuts and one teaspoon of the Angostura. Use mixture to stuff apples. Bake uncovered in a preheated moderate oven (350 degree F.) for 25 to 30 minutes or until apples are easily pierced. Time varies with the size of the apple. Melt butter and stir in cornstarch. Stir in juice, rind, water and remaining Angostura. Cook while stirring until smooth and thick. Spoon sauce over baked apples. Yield: six servings.

Doing the Right Thing

By EIZABETH L. POST
Of The Emily Post Institute
BRIDE AND GROOM
ENTITLED TO DO 'OWN
THING' AT WEDDING

The following letter has been chosen as the prize-winning one for this week. A copy of Emily Post's Etiquette has been sent to Gail Johnson of Madison, Tenn.

Dear Mrs. Post: I am getting married in December and of course by mother is planning what we hope will be a beautiful wedding for my fiancé and myself. The only problem is, my mother has a very, very, small knowledge of wedding procedure. She thinks that those rules set down are the only ones that she could possibly follow. My fiancé and I have a couple of ideas of our own and would like to include them in the ceremony (we've discussed some of them with the minister) and because they aren't traditional or in her little "rule book," she says that we are trying to turn our wedding into a circus. With a

Church of Christ minister leading the ceremony, I don't think he would agree to participate in a wedding he thought was going to be conducted like a circus—but this makes no sense to my mother, everything must go by rules. As an example of what she refers to as a most "outrageous" request—I simply do NOT like the traditional Wedding March, and would prefer that it not be played at my wedding.

I think that a wedding is something for the bride and groom to remember and look back upon as a wonderful and perfect event in their life, something that was their own "thing," within reason, of course. I would like to include personal touches and make the "rule book" wedding into a wedding that my fiancé and I will be able to remember as Our wedding and not a list of mandatory steps that we had to perform in order to become man and wife.

If you have time, I would appreciate your opinion on what little I've told you.—Gail Johnson

Dear Miss Johnson: I happen to be in total agreement with you. While many of the traditions of the wedding ceremony are meaningful and beautiful, the personal touches which young couples are inventing more and more frequently are a great addition in my opinion. I believe that a wedding should be a very "personal" occasion and that the long-time "rules" should be guidelines, rather than restrictions or demands.

Variations need not detract from the beauty of the service—rather, they should enhance it. Many people feel as you do about the wedding march, and there are those who sincerely believe it is inappropriate in any case, as its origin is secular rather than religious. I also feel that the many couples who have requested that special readings or music of their own making, or chosen because of its special meaning to them, have made their wedding services more beautiful and more intimate.

Growing Sentiment in County For Veterans Memorial Cemetery

KINGSTON County Legislator Richard D. Nace (R-Dist. 2), reports a growing sentiment in veterans organizations within the county for the establishment of a county memorial cemetery for members of the armed forces who die in service, or who are veterans of service in the armed forces.

Decreased members of the armed forces may be honored by burial in any of the 86 national cemeteries throughout the United States with the nearest one to Ulster County being at Farmingdale, L.I. Since most families desire burial of their kin close to home there is a growing sentiment for a suitable memorial cemetery within Ulster County.

It has been suggested that the County Legislature purchase and develop suitable acreage for such a cemetery. It is possible that suitable acreage might be donated in whole or in part by a philanthropic citizen of the county or, as another suggestion, funds might be raised by veteran organizations with matching funds by the county. Participation by the county is desirable to establish an official county status for the proposed cemetery.

Maintenance of the cemetery might be assumed by veterans organizations thereby releasing the county from any long range commitment of funds.

Administration of the cemetery could be by a joint commission of the county and the veteran organizations.

Consideration of the establishment of an Ulster County Veterans Cemetery is now under study and advisement of the Veterans Committee of the Ulster County Legislature.

Sullivan Show Opens This Week

GRAHAMSVILLE Two shows daily, featuring excellent talent, have been promised persons who plan to attend the three-day Sullivan County Sportsmen's Show at the Grahamsville Fairgrounds on September 11, 12, and 13.

In its fifth year, the show has gained momentum each year and is now one of the outstanding examples of what a group of local clubs can do to promote the sporting picture.

A feature, one which proved exceedingly popular last year is the policy of admitting senior citizens over 65 without the usual admission fee on Friday, the 11th, which has been designated Senior Citizens Day.

Three special acts headline the entertainment. One, Anne Clark, outstanding woman archer, has amazed audiences everywhere with her skill with bow and arrow, and according to Jerry Kreiter, show chairman, it is easy to understand why she has won numerous national and international titles.

The Harmonica Rascals, long known via radio, television and motion pictures as tops in their field, share billing with Miss Clark, but its a sure bet that Peanuts, will also receive more than his share of attention. This intelligent chimp is called by his manager, "America's Most Lovable Chimp".

Additional sporting acts include Paul LaCross, the world's fastest gunslinger, and Ann Strobel, international fly casting champion. There will also be hunter safety courses and boat safety courses, as well as the usual trout pond and a reptile display.

Show hours are to be 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. and activity will be spaced out through the day so that there will be few dull moments. On Saturday at 11 a.m. the horseshoe pitchers will begin their contest.

Despite the apparent calm of the contestants, the competition is always keen and spirited. Later that day, at 3:30 p.m. the experts with chain saws will be involved in their own contest.

The Old Mill, feature of the camping and Sports Show at the New York Coliseum last March, will be shown at Grahamsville during the Sportsmen's Federation Show. Sullivan County Publicity Department personnel will man the information desk there and dispense literature which must be delivered either to the publicity office in Monticello not later than Sept. 9, or to the Old Mill during the show.

Admission to the show includes free parking, free movies, special awards and all shows.

School Bells Ring in Ulster County

By NANCY SULLIVAN

The first full day of school for Kingston City Schools (Consolidated), Rondout Valley Central Schools, Ontonagon Central Schools, New Paltz Central Schools, Marlboro District Schools, Highland Central Schools, and Ellenville Central Schools. For many, the first day will be a full day of classes. However, Rondout Valley students will only attend a half-day session, as well as students in the Ellenville Central School system, with kindergarten classes in Ellenville commencing the following day, Sept. 10.

Classes at Ontonagon begin at 8 a.m. on Wednesday with the last day of classes scheduled for June 24. The entire district staff will meet on Tuesday at 8 a.m. for a Superintendent's Conference for a full day program.

The 18 new school buses purchased by the New Paltz Central School System will be in operation on opening day. However, there will be no lunch program that day. Anticipated enrollment is about 1,900 students. This is a record figure, as last spring there were about 1,800 enrolled — an increase of about 100 students. There is a possibility of the use of portable classrooms due to the overcrowded conditions in the elementary schools. Teachers will meet on Sept. 8 for orientation.

Highland Central School System also boasts a record enrollment of at least 2,000 students. Their cafeteria will be open on Sept. 9 and faculty orientation will take place Sept. 8.

Teachers will report to school on Sept. 8 for faculty orientation meetings. All elementary schools in the Kingston City Schools (Consolidated) will operate on a normal full day session on Sept. 9. Schedules for students on opening day attending Kingston High School and Myron J. Michael Junior High, M. Clifford Miller, and J. Watson Bailey were listed in the Sept. 2 edition of The Daily Freeman. Lunch will be served in the elementary schools only on opening day.

Police Chief Francis J. Fagan recently announced that his department is participating in the Automobile Club of New York's annual "School's Open—Drive Carefully" campaign. The department will be mounting colorful AAA "School's Open" posters on street poles to help protect the lives of Kingston's school age youngsters.

Bard College Slates Student Registration

ANNANDALE-ON-HUDSON—Students return to the Bard College campus today to register for the autumn semester, which begins with 9:15 a.m. classes Thursday.

With enrollment filled, the college has opened its five new auxiliary housing units, which are named for local history and geography: Annandale, Bartlett, Cruger, Sawkill, and Stephens Houses.

Each provides ten individual rooms, two baths, and a common room, and may later be converted to other uses such as office space or faculty housing. Ground was broken Sept. 2 for a new dining commons, which should be ready for use for the spring semester, 1972.

The new building, air conditioned throughout, will include a dining room with alcoves for group dining, a faculty dining room, three private dining rooms for clubs or meetings,

Cafeterias will be open on the first day of school for Marlboro District School students, when they meet for a full day on Wednesday.

Classes will run through June 25. Legal holidays included in the coming school year are Columbus Day, Veteran's Day, Lincoln's Birthday and Memorial Day, as well as the usual Thanksgiving, Christmas and Easter holiday periods. In addition, there will be a local conference day on Oct. 23 and a school year begins with a series of orientation sessions scheduled on March 22, at which times school will be closed.

a lounge and coat room space, a coffee shop, and kitchen and storage facilities. During the summer the renovation of South Hall, with sound-proofing, new interior walls, and wall to wall carpeting, has been completed and the Stone Row dormitories have been repainted.

Future plans at the college include complete renovation of Stone Row and construction of additional dormitory space, as well as more library space.

In the academic sphere, an Inner College consisting of 48 students and four full-time faculty members, will be tried out. These persons will originate their own course of study.

Additional scholarship monies will be available to another 20 full-time students, several from the surrounding area.

And the school year calendar has been changed so school lets out in May instead of June.

Teachers will report to school on Sept. 8 for faculty orientation meetings.

All elementary schools in the Kingston City Schools (Consolidated) will operate on a normal full day session on Sept. 9.

Schedules for students on opening day attending Kingston High School and Myron J. Michael Junior High, M. Clifford Miller, and J. Watson Bailey were listed in the Sept. 2 edition of The Daily Freeman. Lunch will be served in the elementary schools only on opening day.

Police Chief Francis J. Fagan recently announced that his department is participating in the Automobile Club of New York's annual "School's Open—Drive Carefully" campaign. The department will be mounting colorful AAA "School's Open" posters on street poles to help protect the lives of Kingston's school age youngsters.

Chief Fagan said, "Motorists should be especially careful when driving in school areas and near parks and playgrounds. Speed should be regulated to allow ample margin for a sudden stop, should it be necessary."

"School's Open — Drive Carefully" is a rule all motorists should follow constantly. Increased traffic safety, particularly concerning our children, must be the goal of all our citizens, the chief said.

Both Chief Fagan and assistant superintendent for transportation, James E. Tobin, caution motorists to watch for the flashing red lights which warn that a school bus is stopped for the purpose of taking on or discharging school pupils. The law clearly states that cars must not pass a school bus picking up or discharging passengers in either direction. There will be approximately 125 school buses on the roads of the Kingston City Schools Consolidated area.

The cooperation of parents is vital to the success of the school's safety program. Handbooks listing transportation regulations are available at all elementary schools and should be studied.

Children must learn to keep away from the bus until it stops, observe the driver's signals, cross in front of the bus, watch for traffic, to be punctual and wait at the designated bus stops. It is encouraged that parents who have a child in kindergarten or first or second grades to accompany the child to the bus stop in the morning on the first day of school and also to meet the bus in the afternoon to supervise and also to assist in establishing desirable safety practices.

"Our objective in school transportation is to convey children to and from schools safely. Let us bear in mind, that safety is everyone's job," Tobin concluded.

Orange County Furniture Fraud Case Is Settled

An Orange County furniture dealer who allegedly defrauded residents of ghetto buildings he owned by inducing them to sign contracts in blank for the purchase of furnishings has been stopped from engaging in this practice and others deemed fraudulent and illegal.

State Attorney General Louis J. Lefkowitz stated that he has obtained an order in Supreme Court, Dutchess County, signed by Justice W. Vincent Grady, barring Ashton Rowell, of 12 Ona Lane, New Windsor, individually and as co-owner of Rowell & Dostillio Furniture, 193 Broadway, Newburgh, together with Francis Dostillio, 255 South William Street, Newburgh, co-owner of the furniture firm, from submitting any credit agreement to any consumer for his signature where there are blank spaces on the agreement, or failing to provide every customer with a copy of any contract at the time it is signed.

Rowell and Dostillio also were enjoined from failing to provide specific descriptions of goods mentioned in contracts, making merchandise substitutions, negotiating to a lending institution any contract where there are blank spaces, unlawfully repossessing personal property from debtors' residences, threatening the loss of utilities to tenants in order to effect prompt payment of rent, or causing any interruption of utility service to any tenant to induce prompt payment of rent, according to the papers in the case.

The defendants, while consenting to the order, denied they had violated the law. They paid costs of $1,000.

Man Fined $50

PRESSING A POINT: Wimbledon champion John Newcombe strains to slap the ball back to Clark Graebner of New York during the U.S. Open Tennis Championships at Forest Hills Monday. The Australian champ whizzed by Graebner, 6-4, 6-3, 6-2. (UPI TELEPHOTO)

Kickers Win, 3-1, Over BW Gottschee

MORGAN HILL, when he launched a long distance shot of about 30 yards with a dangerous slice that gave the Gottschee goalie no chance at all. Gottschee, fielding a fast, young team, scored the equalizer five minutes later on a breakthrough by their inside right.

Kingston dominated the action in the second half during which Winnie Soddemann, the Kicker veteran, proved that his skill and long experience as a center half is indispensable to some good scoring patterns the club's fortunes. He not only had the defense well organized but kept feeding the forward line with useful passes.

Soddemann showed his passing finesse with a neat pass to Reinhardt, who in turn passed to Bruno, a new Kicker, who merely had to push the ball over the goal line to put Kingston ahead, 2-1.

It was Reinhardt again, taking a long pass from Fred Mohr, slamming around two defenders, then faking the Gottschee goalie out of his shoes to drive the ball into the right corner for the final goal.

The Sport Club Old Timers bowed to the Old-timers of Kitchener, Ontario (Canada) in their annual exhibition Sunday, 3 to 1. The Canadians, however, were reinforced by several first string players when some of their personnel were snarled in a traffic mishap.

CHIPPING AWAY: Winner of the Greater Hartford Open, Bob Murphy fell short of the 18th green but chipped to within a foot of the pin for a par. He carded a 17 under par 271 to take $20,000 plus $7,500 automobile. (UPI TELEPHOTO)

Bob Murphy Finally Adjusts to Clubs

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (AP) — "It's been a funny kind of year," Bob Murphy mused after taking down the $20,000 first prize in the Greater Hartford Open Golf Tournament.

"I've been in position to win six times this year, finished second once, third twice and just kicked the rest away."

"I guess I've finally adjusted to my new clubs."

It's been a long fight for the 27-year-old Murphy, whose clubs were stolen from his car in Philadelphia a year ago. He offered a reward of $100 a stick to get them back, but they were gone for good.

And Murphy, who scored consecutive victories in the Philadelphia and Thunderbird Classics of 1968—his rookie season on the tour—hadn't won since.

"I guess I was finally ready," he said Monday after shooting a final 67 for 267 and scoring by four strokes over Paul Harney, a 41-year-old club pro from Sutton, Mass.

Harney, playing partner of the 27-year-old Murphy, had a final 67, four under par on the 6,568 yard Wethersfield Country Club course, for a 271.

Tom Weiskopf, with a 67, was alone in third at 272, followed by Jim Grant and Steve Opperman at 273. PGA champion Dave Stockton and Doug Sanders tied at 274.

Harney was the only man to make a run at Murphy, whose total matched the low 72 hole to tal on the tour this year.

Murphy had a whopping, four-stroke lead starting the cool, cloudy day, but took consecutive bogeys on the 10th and 11th. He three-putted the 10th, and missed the green on the 11th. Harney closed within two strokes on the 14th with a birdie.

But the 215-pound Murphy knocked in a 12-foot birdie putt on the 16th and put it out of reach with a 15-footer on the next hole.

"I had a kind of lucky week," Murphy said. "That's what you have to have to come out on top. I played fairly consistent golf. I'm proud to say, and hit the ball real good."

Murphy donated $1,000 of his purse to a local charity benefiting mentally retarded children. The victory pushed his earnings for the year to over $97,000 compared with the $58,000 he won a year ago while adjusting to the new clubs.

Shoemaker Sets Mark With 6,033

By United Press International

Jockey Bill Shoemaker, 39, is the all-time riding champion. At Del Mar Monday, he captured the fourth race aboard Dares J. for his 6,033rd victory, surpassing the record set by the retired Johnny Longden.

With seven mounts on the Labor Day racing program, Shoemaker achieved the riding record in his second attempt after finishing third in the second race on Captivated II. Shoemaker had tied Longden's mark Saturday when he won the ninth race on Esquimal, his only victory in five mounts that day.

The famed jockey was sent off an even-money choice aboard Dares J. which went to the front and was never headed, winning by 2 1/2 lengths in the time of 1:10 3/5 for six furlongs. It was Shoemaker's only victory of the day.

Bwamazon Farm's Well Mannered, despite top weight of 120 pounds, easily won the $75,000 added Hawthorne Derby, leading from wire to wire to cover the 1 1/16 mile event in 1:41 4/5. The net purse of $573,450 Well Mannered's three-year-old winnings to $126,925.

Rocket Wrangler beat Bunny Bid in a dramatic head-to-head battle to win the 12th running of the $670,000 All American Futurity for quarter horses, the world's richest purse in racing. His winning time was :20.09.

Rocket Wrangler, ridden by veteran jockey Jerry Nicodemus, broke first out of the starting gate in the 400-yard dash but had to hold off a closing rush by Bunny Bid.

A pair of outsiders, Rocky Mount and Flying Brick, accounted for the two divisions of the Ventnor Handicap on grass at Atlantic City before a crowd of 25,135.

The first division of the Ventnor saw Rocky Mount, a former claimer, rally from just off the pace to score a two-length victory over Rollicking with Apollo Flight, a length farther back in third place.

Flying Brick, under Germane Vasquez, held off the late rush of Ambetella to post a half-length victory in the second division of the Ventnor.

Distinctive, an 18-1 outsider, broke on top and led the rest of the way to win the second running of the $166,800 Governor Nicolls Stakes at Belmont Park before a crowd of 65,028.

Ridden by Walter Blum, the 4-year-old son of Never Bend Precious Lady was a half-length in front of Hydrologist at the end of the 1 1/8 mile test for 3-year-olds and up. Plymouth was a similar margin behind in third place, with Personality, the 5/2 favorite, finishing fifth.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — A bolt of lightning which flashed out of the darkening sky over a practice high school football game killed two players and injured 20 other youngsters, two critically.

The bolt Monday centered on a huddle of the Gibbs High School offensive team, working on plays to be used in the season opener Sept. 18.

Killed were senior Robert Newton, 17, an all-Pinellas County Conference tackle last year, and sophomore quarterback Vincent Williams, 16.

Four players remained hospitalized, two of them—Bruce Chapman and Alfonso Black, both 16—listed in critical condition. Sixteen other persons were treated for shocks and burns.

Coach Al Campbell said practice usually is suspended when there is lightning around, but that the bolt hit without warning.

"I heard a loud clapping noise and everybody was knocked down—players, coaches and everybody on the field," Campbell said.

Robert Jenkins, who was refereeing the game, said he saw "flashing way off in the distance like it was on the Gulf beaches and then boom! The noise brought both my jaws together."

Allison was almost one mile behind Baker at the time. He finished 11th, one place behind his brother Bobby.

Another Dodge driver, Bobby Isaac of Catawba, N. C., came in second, one lap and three seconds behind Baker.

"The things that happened to the other guys today could have happened to me," said Baker, winning only his third time in 286 career starts. Both other wins came at Charlotte—the National 500 in 1967 and the World 600 in 1968.

Baker, who won $27,450, covered the 500 miles at 128.871 miles per hour, third best time in Southern 500s but well off the record 130.423 mark set by Richard Petty in 1967.

Isaac's second place earned him 147 points toward the NASCAR point championship for 1970, running his total to 3,039 for the year. The second place driver in the standings, James Hylton of Inman, S.C., placed seventh and received 132 points for a 3,012 total.

The Petty racing team of Pete Hamilton and Richard Petty finished third and fifth respectively, easing memories of a treacherous 400 last May when the team crashed up three cars.

David Pearson of Spartanburg, S.C., who won the pole in Thursday's qualifying, finished fourth.

A Hanover Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Even-money favorite Betty Hanover sped to a three-quarter length victory over Sue Cash in Yonkers Raceway's $12,500 feature for three-year-old pacing fillies Monday night. Aphrodite Lobell was third. The winner paid $4.

In New York State harness racing in Saratoga Winger Lobell scored a half-length decision over Rod Key to return his backers a handsome $28.60 to win. Seer was the show horse in the $5,000 Invitational trotting feature. Winger Lobell was clocked at 2:05 3/5.

Armstrong outpaced Laurel Adios by a nose in the $4,500 featured ninth race at Batavia Downs, going the mile in 2:04 to pay $20.80. Haladale ran third. At Vernon Downs another longshot came home in the money as Dillers Fleur took the lead at the top of the stretch to cross the wire a neck ahead of Nite Club and pay $17.60. Time for the $2,800 mile trot was 2:03 1/5. Timmy Hanover was named second and Chapel Hill third, after Nite Club was set back because of a break at the wire.

Stock Car Mishap Kills Spectator at State Fair

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — The race, the final of the day's New York State Modified Stock Championships, was halted about 40 minutes after the mishap occurred on the third lap of the 30-lap competition.

The dead and injured were all spectators standing behind an eight-foot fence in the northwest corner of the dirt track.

According to witnesses, a car driven by Lee Millington of Canajoharie, N.Y., swerved and was struck by another car.

Millington's vehicle flipped end-over-end two or three times on the track, then slowly turned over once more as it crossed a 3 1/2 foot wall and the fence.

Baker in Breeze

DARLINGTON, S.C. (AP) — It's about time somebody else got the lightning bolt," said auto racing hard-luck guy Buddy Baker after he breezed to a one-lap victory Monday in the 21st Southern 500 stock car race.

The burly driver from Charlotte, N.C., put his 1969 Dodge, built by Cotton Owens, into the lead on the 303rd lap and held it the rest of the way as his two nearest challengers were victims of accidents in the final 50 miles.

Veteran Cale Yarborough of Timmonsville, S.C., winner of this event two years ago, was only three seconds behind on the 332nd lap of the 367 lap race when he attempted to pass three cars on the low side of the back straightaway.

Yarborough, running without brakes, closed in too quickly on slower traffic and bounced off the inside guard rail, spinning back on the track. The wreck sent him to the sidelines for a 20th place finish in the 40-car field.

This left only Donnie Allison of Hueytown, Ala., as a serious contender. But Allison, who led the 110 laps near the middle of the race, saw his hopes shattered when he slid into the wall coming out of the first turn on the 347th lap, only moments after he had stopped for tires.

Allison was almost one mile behind Baker at the time. He finished 11th, one place behind his brother Bobby.

Another Dodge driver, Bobby Isaac of Catawba, N. C., came in second, one lap and three seconds behind Baker.

"The things that happened to the other guys today could have happened to me," said Baker, winning only his third time in 286 career starts. Both other wins came at Charlotte—the National 500 in 1967 and the World 600 in 1968.

WOODSTOCK
Vince Lombardi's total dedication to victory was shaped long before he achieved immortality as the builder of the Green Bay Packers professional football dynasty.

A Woodstock resident and former mayor of Englewood, N.J., M.L. (Les) Denning recently reminisced about his association with Lombardi when the football legend was just two years out of Forham and an obscure assistant coach under Andy Palau, another ex-Ram at St. Cecilia's High in Englewood.

Denning, a retired Wall Street broker, resides on the Ohayo Mountain Road and is well known in golf circles as founder of the Mid-Hudson Junior Golf Classic and coach of the Woodstock Country Club team.

"I recall two vivid examples of Lombardi's pre-occupation with victory and his total disdain for second place," said Denning.

"The first occurred during a banquet at St. Cecilia's celebrating a football victory over arch rival, Dwight Morrow High," he continued. "As mayor of the town, I was the first speaker on the program. I gave my usual Cross of Gold speech and topped it off by reminding the kids of Grantland Rice's oft-quoted exhortation: It's not whether you win or lose, but how you played the game."

"Lombardi followed me to that podium. Even then he was showing flashes of the ability that was to make him a dynamic orator."

"I enjoyed the remarks of my good friend, Les," said Lombardi. "But I'd like to remind him of the message General MacArthur sent to the Army football team on the eve of an Army-Navy football game: 'Gentlemen, there is no substitute for victory.'"

Lombardi was beginning to acquire his hard-nosed philosophy that "there's only one place and that's first place. Second place is strictly hinky-dinky." "There was another occasion when Vince and I were on opposite sides in a softball game in Englewood," Denning continued. "and I got another taste of his insatiable desire to win."

"There was a bit of a generation gap between us — nearly 20 years, if I recall — but that made no difference to Vince when the winning run in the game was at stake."

"I was catching for our team and Lombardi was on second from 18th cup; William Merrill (14 htcp), 2 ft., 11 in. from outfield. I was preoccupied 18th cup: John Provenzano (9 with the flight of the ball and htcp), 5 ft., 6 in., 18th cup; planted myself at home plate Irving Eyles (16 htcp), 23 ft., waiting for the throw. Lombardi 18th cup: Michael Groppuso Jr. came tearing around third base (12 htcp), 23 ft., 18th cup. toward home, arriving a split second ahead of the ball. He crashed into me and sent me rolling like a bowling pin."

"There I lay half knocked out about 10 feet from the plate, when Vince ran up and very solicitously inquired, 'Are you okay, Les.'"

"Yes, you big lug," I replied "but did you have to hit me that hard?"

"I'm sorry if I hurt you," Lombardi replied with a sheepish grin on his face. "But you know, Les, I'm the winning

"There was a certain personal magnetism about Lombardi that made him stand out in any gathering," Denning recalled.

"You knew he was somebody."

"Vince Lombardi was a very complex man," Denning explained. "Off the field he was soft-spoken, extremely fond of his parents, who lived in Englewood, a devout church goer and respected citizen."

"On the football field he was something else again. Nothing else mattered but victory. He was a driver even in those early days, striving for perfection for the St. Cecilia football team. He achieved his goal and St. Cecilia eventually won the New Jersey state championship."

"I rarely saw Vince Lombardi after those early days in Englewood," said Denning.

"but, of course, I followed his career with great pride. From the moment of our first meeting I sensed that here was a man for whom I was a fan."

Hold Final Rites For Lombardi

RED BANK, N.J. (AP) — Vince Lombardi was buried near here Monday with a wreath of white and yellow flowers at the head of his grave.

The Burial at Mt. Olivet Cemetery followed a Requiem Mass at St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York.

More than 1,000 were present as Lombardi's coffin was placed in its final resting place.

Lombardi, who reached legendary stature as coach of the National Football League's Green Bay Packers, died of cancer last Thursday in Washington at 57. For the past year he had been coach and executive vice president of the Washington Redskins.

The floral offering at the head of the grave was from President Nixon, who attended a memorial Mass in Washington at the same time the funeral Mass was being conducted at St. Patrick's by Terence Cardinal Cooke, Roman Catholic archbishop of New York.

At a White House dinner Monday night, Nixon spoke of Lombardi, calling him a "man of very great character."

Lombardi, the President said, "was a man who in a time when so many people seem to be turning away from religion was devoutly religious and devoted to his church; at a time when the moral fabric of the country seems to be coming apart, he was a man who was deeply devoted to his family; at a time when it seems rather square to be patriotic, he was deeply and unashamedly patriotic; at a time when permissiveness is the order of the day in many circles, he was a man who insisted on discipline ... discipline and strength."

Lombardi was described by Cardinal Cooke as a man of deep faith and hope, in addition to being a successful professional football coach.

Dear Abby

Don't Hide Feelings

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
(© 1970 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: We are in our 40s and our children are married, so there are just the two of us home. A few weeks ago, while I was on a short business trip, my wife exchanged our large double bed for twin beds. I didn't raise any objections at the time, but now I wish I had. After having slept like two spoons for more than 30 years, I didn't realize it would make such a big difference in our lives. There is something about sleeping together that seems to generate a feeling of security and reassurance, and makes life's daily problems easier to cope with. It made going to bed something to look forward to. All of that is gone now and I feel that we have lost a certain closeness. What infuriates me is that my wife seems pleased with the new arrangement. I often go to bed so angry I have trouble falling asleep. She drops right off and sleeps like a log. I haven't made a big deal out of it, but I have complained a couple of times. I'm sure if I insisted on going back to the double bed she'd agree, but what would I gain if she did it against her wishes? Maybe you can suggest something.

DEAR ABBY: I have a thoughtful mother in law who is also very generous, but listen to this: Whenever she sends me a gift for any occasion (even Christmas) she sends the gift, to the double bed she'd agree, but what would I gain if she did it against her wishes? Maybe you can suggest something.

DEAR ABBY: I recently had a party at my home. My parents fully approve of it, in fact it was my mother's idea. As I had hoped, many of my friends showed up. But so did a lot of kids who were not my friends, and also a lot of kids I didn't even know. It was this uninvited group that brought beer, obstructed traffic in front of our house, littered the neighbor's yard with beer cans, and finally caused the police to come to quiet the disturbance.

DEAR ABBY: I have a letter from "SHOOK IN MON-TANA" who had never heard of a shower being given for the groom: My husband's friends gave him a "bath." The host sent invitations reading, "Mable (friends, and also a lot of kids I didn't even know. It was this uninvited group that brought beer, obstructed traffic in front of our house, littered the neighbor's yard with beer cans, and finally caused the police to come to quiet the disturbance.

DEAR ABBY: I have a letter from "SHOOK IN MON-TANA" who had never heard of a shower being given for the groom: My husband's friends gave him a "bath." The host sent invitations reading, "Mable (friends, and also a lot of kids I didn't even know. It was this uninvited group that brought beer, obstructed traffic in front of our house, littered the neighbor's yard with beer cans, and finally caused the police to come to quiet the disturbance.

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

SUMMER STORM: (Q.) Until this summer my sister and I were very close. I could tell her most of the things I did—good or bad. Now we fight all the time. If I tell her anything, she threatens to tell our mother. This is dirty. It is also called blackmail.

I would tell my mother about everything but I can't. There is just no way. I would probably get killed and never be trusted. Could you please tell me what to do?—Threatened in Hewitt, N. J.

(A.) You're right in protesting that your sister is doing wrong. She should not listen in confidence and then tattletale, or threaten to. No one should. So quit telling her anything as long as she is in this stage.

But I'm not so sure you're right in keeping the things you do—good and bad—from your mother. You appear to be in trouble of some kind. Talk to your mother, freely, frankly. Maybe she can help you.

GOOP: (Comment) I see girls who shave their brows and paint on their own goop. They put on white, blue, green, or whatever else they can find. They look like they have two black eyes.

Others wear false eyelashes and paint the sides to a point. Some color their lips white. They carry around more make-up than a circus clown. I like girls with a moderate amount of make-up, put on to look natural.—A High School Boy in Garden City, Mich.

(A.) Thank you for putting your dislikes plainly. I am for tasteful make-up, tastefully applied. I consistently urge girls not to go too heavy on their make-up.

During the course of the Culbertson-Lenz match Ely Culbertson came out with a new book. He autographed a copy to Sidney Lenz as "The grand old man of bridge" and another to Oswald Jacoby as the grand young man of bridge. Sidney was 57, Jacoby 28. Today there are great players who are considerably older than 57 or considerably younger than 28.

The Pre-Season Specials

NEW YORK (AP) — Television's five-month summer vacation is over.

Labor Day itself, the unofficial harbinger of autumn and the opening of school, slips by without the special attention networks give to most other holidays in the form of special programs.

But starting right now, all the networks are beginning an intensive effort to lure viewers back in preparation for the opening of the new television season.

NBC will kick off tonight 7:30-8:30 EDT with an hour-long special, "Civilization: A Preview," which sketches the achievements of Western culture during the past 1,600 years.

This is a gesture of good will since "Civilization" is an ambitious series of 13 British-made programs—hence the spelling of its title—which has been acquired for broadcast later this season on the National Educational Network.

Later tonight, 9:15-11, CBS will present a 1½-hour news department effort, "A Day in the Life of the United States." The chosen day was July 20, 1969, when Neil Armstrong stepped out on the surface of the moon.

The program will demonstrate what an assortment of earth-bound Americans were doing. It ranged, as it does on all days, from birth to death, from comedy to tragedy.

NBC has a Carol Channing special Wednesday night (9-10). This was taped recently in London and has Sir John Gielgud, Sir Ralph Richardson and Fred MacMurray to help out in the sketches, some of which make good-natured fun of our British cousins.

There is an NBC science special Thursday night (7:30-8:30) with Hugh Downs handling the narration of a report on "The Ice People"—Eskimos.

ABC moves in later (9-10) with a revue starring Gene Kelly called "Changing Scene," in which he has a little help from his friends Barbara Eden and James Garner. This is followed by a report on the "Calgary Stampede," a Canadian rodeo, with Arthur Godfrey reporting on the local color.

NBC's Saturday night schedule is all specials, starting with two-hour finals of the Miss America pageant.

Broadway hit "George M.," followed by the hectic two-week period of lowly by an hour-long program season premieres starts the of circus highlights and then the next day.

Auto Talks Are Stalled

DETROIT (AP) — With less than a week to go before contracts expire, bargaining between the United Auto Workers and the Big Three automakers appears stalled today while the union awaits a second offer from its twin strike targets, General Motors and Chrysler Corp.

With pacts at GM, Chrysler and Ford Motor Co. ending at midnight next Monday, negotiations continued through the Labor Day weekend, but little progress was reported.

The companies' initial offer, which the firms said included a wage increase of 7.5 per cent in the first year but which the UAW said amounted to no more than 1.1 per cent, was quickly rejected by the union last week.

Over the weekend, the UAW completed presentation of its contract demands at GM and Chrysler.

Details of the UAW wage demands were not made public. The current average hourly wage for UAW-represented auto workers is $4.02, with fringe

Unionist on President—A Political 10-Strike

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, an unlikely candidate for an election year left affair with organized labor, left some union chiefs wondering today why Democrats hadn't discovered his wine-and-dine gambit years ago.

Nixon invited more than three score top union officials and their wives to a White House dinner Monday—the first time any chief executive had held such a soiree on Labor Day.

The normally Democratic unionists seemed impressed.

After the business-suit event—a departure from Nixon's preference for formal attire at evening social events—a significant number echoed the sentiments of AFL-CIO official Sol Barkin, who proclaimed:

don't happen in the labor movement.

It was Nixon's turn to interrupt with, "Maybe, he should join a labor union."

In a more serious vein, Nixon lauded Meany as a "labor statesman" and asserted that "when the chips are down," the unions are on the side of the U. S. President, be he Democrat or Republican.

Meany allowed as how all six Hoover Vacuums for shag rugs, regular, indoor and outdoor carpeting
